RUST TO CUT WHEAT YIELD IN N. DAKOTA

Particularly Heavy in The Southeastern Part of State.
Reports Show

SOME ON THE SLOPE

Bacterial Disease of Wheat
Also Reported — Hail
Losses Are Large

Fargo, N. D. July 19.—Black stem rust of wheat is present in most sections of North Dakota and already indications are that wheat fields will be materially cut in the southeastern part of the state, according to crop reports received by the North Dakota Extension division from county agents for the period ending last Saturday.

Heavy rust infections are reported as far west as Jamestown, and lighter infections from the Slope and northwestern part of the state, with a few counties reporting no rust found. While the rust infection is a little late this year, there is no locality in which the crop is absolutely out of danger from this disease at the present time, according to the reports.

Black chaff, a bacterial disease of wheat is causing very damage in some fields in the Red River valley in heavy, wet lands, according to H. L. Bolley, plant pathologist at the Agricultural college. This disease results in dwarfed heads and shriveled kernels, and is most prevalent on marquis wheat, according to Mr. Bolley, who declares that the damage has probably been emphasized by the recent hot, wet weather. Loose smut is quite prevalent in the wheat fields this year.

Harvesting of rye is already under way in many localities and will be general by the first of next week, according to the reports, which indicate that the crop is very light in all sections. Wheat harvest will not start much before the last of July unless weather conditions hasten the maturity of the crop, although early cuts and barley will be cut in the near future. Grasshopper damage is reported from several localities.

Federal crop estimates for July 1, issued recently show that the indicated production on that date for wheat, rye, oats, and barley in North Dakota was 155,502,000 bushels, while the 1922 crop for these four grains aggregated 250,345,000 bushels, a decreased production of 93,743,000 bushels, or slightly more than 37 per cent. In addition, market prices for these grains at the present time average considerably below those of a year ago, still further reducing the total value of the crop of small grain. The indicated production of flax is 50 per cent more than last year, or 8,207,000 bushels. The corn crop is indicated to be less than one per cent more than last year, while the potato average has decreased 23 per cent and the indicated production is more than a third less than a year ago.

Hail Losses Up.
Claims for hail losses are 70 per cent greater than a year ago at this time, according to Martin S. Hagen, manager of the state hail insurance department, who announced the total claims filed up to Wednesday morning were 15,911 as compared with 7,609 at the same time a year ago. Heaviest losses during the past two weeks were sustained in Divide, Foster, McKenzie, McLean, Mountrail, Renville, Sheridan, Stark, Wells, and Williams counties where the losses reported ranged from 200 to 700 for each county for the period from July 5 to July 17. Losses reported by counties for that period follow:

Adams 17; Barnes 23; Benson 86; Billings 18; Bottineau 10; Bowman 70; Burke 119; DeRidder 50; Cass 7; Cavalier, 7; Dickey 20; Divide, 698; Dunn, 85; Eddy, 178; Emmons, 177; Golden Valley, 98; Foster, 243; Grand Forks, 13; Griggs 0; Grand, 114; Hettinger, 27; Kidder, 6; LaMoure, 22; Logan 8; McHenry, 47; McIntosh, 12; McKenzie, 310; McLean, 644; Mercer, 6; Morton, 87; Mountrail, 329; Nelson, 49; Oliver, 3; Pembina, 26; Pierce, 64; Ramsey, 23; Ransom, 11; Renville, 355; Richland, 4; Roseau, 20; Sheridan, 359; Sioux Falls, 82; Stark, 296; Steele, 1; Stutsman, 4; Towner, 2; Traill, 4; Walsh, 7; Ward, 278; Wells, 290; Williams, 203.

Following are the individual reports for the period ending last Saturday from the county agents:

"Wheat is all headed out and the early seeded is in blossom. With the exception of some fields which are very weedy, the crop is in good condition. Rye is filling well, and prospects are better than a month ago. Flax is in blossom, and the condition of the crop is good. Hay and pasture crops are doing well. Clear weather with no extreme temperatures prevailed during the week. Traces of black stem rust of wheat have been found."—Karl Swanson, Bowbells.

"Early seeded wheat is completely headed out and late sown is beginning to head. No rust has been found. Harvesting of a very light crop of rye will commence in a few days. The second crop of alfalfa and sweet clover is coming along in fine shape, and the corn crop looks the best in years. Local showers and (Continued on Page 2)

MILL BOARD TO TAKE CHARGE ON JULY 30

Will Manage State's Mill
and Elevator at Grand
Forks

The board of managers for the state mill and elevator at Grand Forks, the personnel of which was decided upon by the state industrial commission two weeks ago, today was formally named. The board will take over the management of the mill and elevator, as provided by an act of the 1922 legislature, on July 30, it was stated by Governor Nestos, chairman of the Industrial Commission.

An audit of the mill, both of the operating account and the construction account, now is being made with a cut-off as of June 30. Members of the board of managers are: J. R. Casley, Grand Forks, 6-year term; J. F. McGrann, Fargo, 6-year term; Nelson, Emerado, 4 years each; James Whelan, St. Thomas, and Dr. E. N. Hegge, Hatton, two years each. Governor Nestos, asked if the mill and elevator association would pay $147,162.07 interest said by the state treasurer to be due on bonds issued for the Grand Forks mill, said that it could only be paid by the association by borrowing money. No action is likely to be taken, he indicated, until the audit of the mill is completed and the exact status is made known.

CONVENTION TO BISMARCK

Title Men Accepted Invitation
Of This City

Bismarck will get the 1924 convention of the North Dakota Title Men's Association. At the close of a two-day session in Grand Forks the title men accepted the invitation of A. J. Arnot of Bismarck to come here on Tuesday and Wednesday of the second week in July, next year.

A. W. Dennis, of Grand Forks, was re-elected president. Geo. Phelps of Bowbells, was re-elected vice-president. A. J. Arnot of Bismarck, as secretary, and R. L. Phelps of Steele, as treasurer.

The convention closed with a tour for the delegates to the state mill and elevator, where that plant was inspected under the guidance of experienced guides. Later in the afternoon, the delegates took in the state fair at Grand Forks.

TABERTS PLAN $100,000 SUIT

Minneapolis, July 19.—Suit for $100,000 damages from the Putnam Lumber company, of which William O'Brien, of St. Paul, is president, will be filed in a Wisconsin federal court within two weeks by Ben Tabert of Munich, N. D., father of Martin Tabert, victim of a Florida whipping boss. This was the announcement made here yesterday by Gudmundur Grimson, of Cereville, N. D., county attorney who made the investigation which led to the trial and conviction of Thomas Walter Higginbotham, the former convict whipping boss, on a charge of second degree murder.

The Putnam Lumber company is incorporated under the laws of the state of Wisconsin and the civil action must be brought there, Mr. Grimson said.

WILL CLOSE STATE NORMAL

The state board of administration has formally approved closing of the Forestry Normal School of Bottineau after a second term of summer normal school.

LOCAL LABOR USE IS URGED BY GOVERNOR

Praises Cooperative Movement Launched in Stuts-
man Co. to Aid Harvest

Utilization of local labor wherever possible, through cooperation of farmers, business men and others is urged by Governor Nestos as a means of insuring harvest of North Dakota's grain crop at a reasonable cost to the farmers and to combat an I. W. W. agricultural strike.

"The most important problem now before our people is to create labor conditions that will make it possible for the farmers to harvest and thresh their grain and do it without having to bear an unreasonable cost," Governor Nestos said today.

"The threat of an I. W. W. strike among the floating laborers makes this even more imperative. I am glad to learn that in Stutsman county, where there is a very good crop, the people have already organized so as to marshal and use all available labor in town and country, to take care of the crop in that county without depending upon the I. W. W. or floating laborers.

"In many counties the state that the crop is so light that there should be no difficulty in taking care of what there is. My hope is that in every county in the state the example of the people of Stutsman county will be followed, and local forces so organized that the farmers, by using our own home help, exchanging work with neighbors and obtaining help from adjacent towns, will be able to handle the situation satisfactorily even though the I. W. W. should strike.

"This should and must be done without delay."

REQUISITION IS HONORED

Requisition for the return to Kenosha, Wisconsin, of Dr. George Thompson of Cathay to face a charge of deserting six minor children yesterday, the requisition complying with requirements, in the opinion of the Governor. Frank S. Symonds, district attorney of Kenosha, Wis., presented the case for the Governor of Wisconsin. Thompson resisted the requisition, and it was indicated that a writ of habeas corpus would be sought.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 19.—Major Marvel H. Sprague of Grafton, was elected president of the 164th society consisting of members of the old First North Dakota volunteers, of the old First North Dakota infantry, of the Second North Dakota infantry and of the 164th North Dakota infantry of the World War days. The election was held in connection with the society's reunion at the North Dakota state fair.

Other officers are W. M. Gleason of Fargo, vice president; and Major E. C. Boyd of Grand Forks, secretary and treasurer.

LEAGUERS TO DEMAND A NEW ORGANIZATION

Want Townley, Lemke and
Present State Committee
To Step Out of Way

100 IN ATTENDANCE

Abandonment of Nonpartisan
League for Progressive Republican Party Talked

Valley City, July 19.—With the avowed purpose in view of reorganizing the state committee of the Nonpartisan League and forcing the calling of a state convention of the party this fall instead of next February, more than 100 leaguers met here this afternoon for a conference that was calculated to last all day and a portion of the night.

It was noticeable that there were few or any of the Townley or Lemke faction in the roster of delegates. It was reported that those in attendance will seek to drop both A. C. Townley, former head of the league, and William Lemke, former attorney-general. The leaguers who are leading the anti-Townley faction are said to be John Andrews, editor and publisher of The Progressive, a league weekly newspaper, and Peter Arrhus.

Plans for creation of a new league, daily newspaper, "more democratic" government and a complete account of finances of the league are expected to be made in the form of demands on the state committee now in power failing which, it is expected, reorganization of the state committee will be advanced.

NATIONAL LEADER DEAD

Death of National League Leader, a Thing of the Past.
The organ ceases with the issue of this month, according to announcement contained in The Leader.

Abandonment of the National League is likewise indicated in the announcement.

Reasons given for the discontinuance of the paper are several, and all through the announcement runs the theme that the Nonpartisan league, as an organization, is itself virtually at the end of its rope.

SEES ONE HOPE

Fargo, N. D., July 19.—There is no hope for the Nonpartisan league at this time, according to P. L. Arrhus, business manager of John Andrews, "Progressive." He said:

"There is no hope for the League in North Dakota under its present control. The majority of the members have found out what Townley and Lemke are. We are sick and tired of their rule and past mismanagement. The membership has been bled white under the leadership of these two men with no other result than they themselves are utterly discredited and the organization ruined. The Consumers Stores, the Sissal Trust, the Service Bureau, the bank schemes, all colossal failures, leaving the farmers holding the empty bag, have branded the promoters as entirely unfit for leadership in any movement. Their attempt to hold on means death to the League. They should have been eliminated long ago. The fact that they have been able to pull the wool over the eyes of the leaguers so long augurs ill for the organization. Unless the leaguers can get together and oust them promptly the League is dead in North Dakota.

"I really believe there is no other way for the people of this state who believe in the League program and League principles to continue the movement except by reorganizing as progressive Republicans. That, I think, will be the ultimate development from the present situation."

Reject Bids On State Bonds

North Dakota bonds are worth considerably more than par, the state industrial commission believes. Acting in this belief the commission rejected another bid for a block of bids, submitted last yesterday by C. W. Whitte & Co., A. M. Lambert & Co. and Love, McCumber & Co., all of New York. The syndicate bid 100 1/4 for $500,000 real estate bonds and $300,000 mill and elevator bonds conditional upon granting of a 60-day option for $2,000,000 additional real estate and $700,000 mill and elevator operating bonds. Members of the commission held the premium not sufficient and the option asked too long.

Meetings will be held from time to time. It was said. Another syndicate of eastern investment houses has been working on the proposition, the commission was informed.

WILDROSE, N. D. RESIDENT DROWNED

Moose Jaw, Sask.—Alfred Evanson of Wildrose, N. D., lost his life while in bathing at Wood End, a summer resort on Long creek, eight miles south of Estevan, according to word received here. A companion swimmer made every effort to save Evanson, but his attempts were futile. The body was recovered.

SCHOOL BOARD BUDGET FIXED FOR NEW YEAR

Put at $128,000 as Compared
To About $120,000 for the
Past Year, Announcement

TO HAVE NEW SCHOOL

$11,000 Expense—Figured
There—Board Now Has
Clean Financial Slate

The city school budget for next year has been fixed by the board at $128,000 as compared to $120,000 fixed by the board last year. The increase in the budget is made necessary, according to members of the board, because of additional expense which will be incurred in operating the new Riverview school for six months, from next January 1.

Under the new limitation law of the legislature, the school levy permitted in a city such as Bismarck is 18 mills. The valuation of the property in the city has not been completed, but it is likely to be a little in excess of $5,000,000, or slightly higher than last year. This levy will not produce all the money needed by the board to run the schools. It is expected, however, that the city board will receive about $15,000 from the state tuition fund. The board hopes, with this amount, to be able to get through the next school year satisfactorily.

It is estimated that the cost of operating the new Riverview school for six months will be about $11,000. Work on the new building, on the exterior of the two-story brick building, but it is not likely to be ready for occupancy before about the first of the year.

The board closed last year's business, squeezing out with a slight surplus, according to members of the board. The board had borrowed some money from the sinking fund to meet current expenses. This was paid back and there is a surplus for the year of about $5,000. All bills are paid and there are no warrants outstanding, it was said by Richard Penwarden, clerk of the board.

The board also reported that the budget for about $120,000, which was reduced by the county board under the limitation law to about $104,000, according to officials. The state tuition fund helped to make up the difference.

Valuation of property in the district last year was $5,940,829. Burleigh county owes the school board $61,000 in uncollected taxes, according to Mr. Penwarden, who added that there is a good chance of much of this being collected, which would put the school finances in excellent shape.

Teachers' salaries will be slightly less this year than last, due to the repeal of the minimum wage law which provided graduated salary schedule, increasing with experience and training. The maximum teacher's salary to be paid next year will be $150. There will be no mid-year promotions in the schools next year, this having been abolished by vote of the board. The new Riverview school also will relieve overcrowding. Both of these will be factors in easing the work of the teachers in the schools, according to members of the board.

President Lenhart of the board said that it had reduced expenses to a minimum. No courses are changed, repairs to buildings are provided, sufficient money appropriated to provide excellent teachers and keep up the high standing of the schools, but all "extras" have been eliminated, he said.

DUIS AGAIN HEADGROWERS

Elected President of North
Dakota Wheat Growers

Grand Forks, July 19.—Geo. E. Duis of this city was re-elected president of the North Dakota Wheat Growers' association at the annual meeting of the organization here. A. Meecham of Edinburg, was named vice president; A. J. Scott, Grand Forks, secretary-treasurer.

Members of the executive committee, as selected are: A. Meecham, A. N. Winge of Van Hook, O. G. Bodden and W. G. Gintner, both of Grand Forks. The annual meeting opened with practically a 100 per cent attendance of directors. Mr. Duis, in reviewing the work of the association during the past year, at the opening session, pointed out that the membership had grown to nearly 11,000 and that about four million bushels of wheat were handled and marketed by the organization since last August, at prices somewhat above usual prices.

The North Dakota Wheat Growers association will hold for the wheat left on its hands from the 1922 pool as the result of the recent drop in prices it was decided by the board of directors. In the meantime an effort will be made to obtain a loan on this wheat from which temporary advance will be made to members of the pool.

Disposition of about 300,000 bushels of wheat remaining of the 1922 pool was a big problem before directors. The wheat remains unsold because of the sharp drop in prices this spring.

HOUSE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING AS MERCURY AND NEAR CLOUDBURST ARE COMBINED IN UNUSUAL DAY

Mandan, July 19.—The first heat prostration of the summer here occurred this morning when Clement Farr, son of A. W. Farr, was overcome while driving a delivery truck. He was taken to the hospital and his condition is not serious. The Great Plains weather station recorded a maximum of 96 degrees yesterday.

A house struck by lightning, a temperature within a half degree of the summer's maximum record and a remarkably heavy shower which did not extend much beyond Mandan, more than about six miles east of Bismarck, made up the story of an unusual afternoon in the weather history of Bismarck yesterday.

During the storm which descended on the city about six o'clock last evening lightning struck the home of John Jochim, in the 800 block on Twelfth street. The chimney on the house was shattered, a piece torn from the walls of the bath room, and a small bit taken out of the porcelain bath tub as the lightning shot down along the chimney and spent its force in the bath room.

No one was injured, but when the house was struck the crash was so loud that people residing in the entire block were almost stunned by the terrific report of thunder which followed almost instantly. No other reports of damage had been made today.

The thermometer had started crawling toward the season's record early in the afternoon. It reached 94—within a half degree of the record—when a light rain began, to be succeeded later by a heavy shower.

The weather bureau's report showed it rained 1.22 inches, the heaviest downpour in a short period this year. In Mandan 1.30 inches fell between 2 and 6 o'clock, although it did not extend much east of Bismarck or Mandan. Rain fell only at three other weather stations of the state—0.4 at Grand Forks, .21 at Jamestown and .40 at Pembina, all thundershowers.

The high pressure areas in Canada and on the Pacific Coast, which were expected to bring relief here, have scarcely moved, weather reports showed today. There is prospect, however, of cooler weather in the central and eastern portions of the state.

MAY DIVIDE McHENRY CO.

Velva, N. D., July 19.—The question of dividing Velva county is at issue again, and there is every indication that it will be submitted to the voters at the 1924 election.

In its early developments the issue appears to be an argument between the north half and the south half of the county. Editorial comments in two papers this week indicate to some extent the trend of the arguments. The Bismarck Tribune suggested the division would mean that "we might get some work done over here, instead of it all being done in the south section." The Velva Journal declared that the county is large enough to make two good sized counties, and that it could be divided "without fuss."

It said that economy and justice demand the division.

Several citizens in a section of the county now are working on plans for submitting the division question to the voters.

TWO ARRESTED IN MERCER CO.

One Given Stiff Fine and Jail
Sentence for Assault

Golden Valley, N. D., July 19.—Guy Chadwick, charged with assault and battery upon Anton Langhaugen at Beulah, where mine trouble has been brewing, was fined and assessed costs of $50 and sentenced to 30 days in the Mercer county jail, the jail sentence being suspended during good behavior. The case of John Bies, also arrested on a charge of assaulting Langhaugen, was continued, according to information from the office of David Schwartz, states attorney.

Chadwick and Bies were taken before Justice H. O. Chilson of Zap.

HELD AFTER FATAL TRAGEDY

South Dakota Man Charged
With Murder in Shooting
Neighbor

Sioux Falls, S. D., July 19.—Charles L. Ferguson, 56, will appear for preliminary hearing in municipal court at 2 o'clock this afternoon charged with the murder of Eugene Griffin, 42, a neighbor of Ferguson's, as a result of an altercation over the crowing of a rooster in Ferguson's garden early yesterday morning.

The accused was placed under arrest yesterday on a complaint of States Attorney Campbell and released later on bond of $10,000.

Ferguson is alleged to have shot and killed Griffin after the latter, awakened by the crowing of a rooster belonging to Ferguson.

STATE'S LOSS IN BUILDERS TO BE GREAT

May Exceed $250,000 Under
Settlements to Be Made on
Court Decision

NOW IS $113,256.76

Increase Is Seen Because of
High Cost of Houses Built
By The State

Ultimate losses of the Home Building Association, one of the state's enterprises, probably will be $250,000 or greater, according to the opinion of many closely connected with the winding up of affairs of this business, as a result of settlements which will be made in accordance with the decision of the supreme court yesterday in the George E. Wallace case.

The Home Building Association was shown in the Bishop, Brissman audit made when the present administration succeeded the Nonpartisan administration to have a deficit of $113,256.76. This report carried the charges against persons for whom homes were built at the figures which were shown on the books. Under the supreme court decision the home buyers may get the home at the reasonable value of the property, which is generally admitted by officials to be much lower than the price the Home Building Association demanded. A loss $250,000 would represent a loss of almost $5,000 on each home built or bought for sale by the state association.

Fifty-seven houses and one barn were built, or bought and resold, by the Home Building Association, during its regime. Of these 58 were constructed by the association. Twenty-four were in Bismarck, 21 in Fargo, six in Mandan, two in Underwood. When the present administration took charge it was found no contracts had been signed by parties in the case of 51 homes.

Contracts had been signed for the house built for J. B. Adams, former manager of the association; the William Lemke house, Fargo, and the house built for R. R. McClintock at Fargo was rejected by him.

The Home Building Association received an appropriation of $100,000, owed the Bank of North Dakota according to the bank statement of June 30 last, $484,855.72 and had received a few thousand dollars from home buyers in payments and loan contracts.

F. E. Diehl, until recently manager of the association, declined to comment on the effect of the supreme court decision except to say that he believed his former estimate of ultimate losses of perhaps $250,000 would be approximately correct.

Attorney-General Shaffer, asked as to the effect of the supreme court decision in the Wallace case on other suits, declined comment until he had examined the decision closely. Other suits pending include that against John N. Hagan and C. O. Fossun and the suit of David J. Hull against the state.

PATROL TO CURB I. W. W.
Egeland, N. D., July 19.—Egeland will take no chances with I. W. W. or other disturbers of the peace and has revived the patrol system which proved so successful last year.

Twenty-five men have been enrolled each night will take turns patrolling the town. When the list of names is marked through the head of the list will automatically take up the patrol in his turn.

Each night the town will be patrolled by two men each armed with shotgun and pistol to prevent any disorder or crimes.

CONDITIONS, HOWEVER, SAID UNACCEPTABLE

Would Cease Passive Resistance if France Would Reduce Force to Skeleton

MAKE PROPOSALS

Seeking to Have British Embodiment German Views in Forthcoming Note

Paris, July 19.—The German government, through its embassies in London, is striving to have the forthcoming note on reparations convey to the French government Germany's willingness to cease passive resistance in the Ruhr, subject to certain concessions on the part of France. This information has reached the French government on what is regarded as unquestionable but unofficial authority.

These concessions appear to include:

1. Withdrawal of the Franco-Belgian troops of occupation with the exception of a mere skeleton military force which would in the diplomatic sense be "invisible."
2. Permission for the German officials and functionaries expelled from the Ruhr to return to their posts, restoring the local administration of all civil services as it existed before January 11 when the occupation took place.
3. That the French government agree to restore the currency confiscated.

The conditions, it is declared here, would be unacceptable to the French government because they are uncompensated by any definite assurances or guarantees that reparations payments would be forthcoming. Likewise it is claimed that the French government feels that since it is enforcing the peace treaty and Germany is refusing to agree to it, it would not be equitable that Germany should impose conditions instead of yielding to the French demands.

AGAINST BLOCKADE

Berlin, July 19.—German representatives in London, Rome, Washington and at the Vatican have been instructed to make representations against prolongation of the traffic blockade between the occupied and unoccupied territories of Germany, according to a semi-official statement.

CABINETS MEETS

London, July 19.—The British cabinet held a protracted session this morning at which the proposed reparations document formed the chief topic of discussion.

Up to the early afternoon it was still uncertain whether the document—the draft of the reply to Germany and accompanying note—would be forwarded to other governments, including the United States, tonight.

FINE WHEAT SOUTH OF HERE

J. B. Saylor Declares He Has
Best 80 Acres of Wheat
To Be Found

A challenge to anyone to show a better field of wheat between Hazelton, Braddock and Bismarck than he has on his farm just over the Emmons county line from Burleigh county is made by J. B. Saylor of Bismarck.

Mr. Saylor has an 80-acre tract of No. 1 northern wheat which stands three feet high. It ought to make 25 bushels to the acre easily, he said. The only enemies it has now, he said, are hail and rust.

Olaf Felthelm has about the best field of rye south of the city, Mr. Saylor declared. Mr. Felthelm's farm is about on the Burleigh-Emmons county line. It ought to make 20 bushels to the acre, Mr. Saylor said.

August Senter has the best corn. He lives in southern Burleigh county. The corn is as high as one's head, Mr. Saylor said.

Crop in southern Burleigh and Emmons counties are declared by Mr. Saylor to be the best ever.

BANDITS BLOW
BADGER BANK

Blue River, Wis., July 19.—Robbers entered the Blue River State Bank last night, blew the safe and escaped with $4,000 in cash and an undetermined amount in United States bonds. The robbers cut all wires and their visit was not known until attempts were made to establish telephone communication this morning.

GERMANS WOULD CEASE STRUGGLE

RUST TO CUT WHEAT YIELD IN N. DAKOTA

Particularly Heavy in The
Southeastern Part of State,
Reports Show

SOME ON THE SLOPE

Bacterial Disease of Wheat
Also Reported — Hail
Losses Are Large

Fargo, N. D. July 19.—Black stem rust of wheat is present in most sections of North Dakota and already indications are that wheat yields will be materially cut in the southeastern part of the state, according to crop reports received by the North Dakota Extension division from county agents for the period ending last Saturday.

Heavy rust infections are reported as far west as Jamestown, and lighter infections from the slope and northwestern part of the state, with a few counties reporting no rust found. While the rust infection is a little late this year, there is no locality in which the crop is absolutely out of danger from this disease at the present time, according to the reports.

Black chaff, a bacterial disease of wheat is causing heavy damage in some fields in the Red River valley in heavy wet lands, according to H. L. Bolley, plant pathologist at the Agricultural college. This disease results in dwarfed heads and shriveled kernels, and is most prevalent on marquis wheat, according to Mr. Bolley, who declares that the damage has probably been emphasized by the recent hot, wet weather. Loose smut is quite prevalent in the wheat fields this year.

Harvesting Under Way.

Harvesting of rye is already under way in many localities and will be general by the first of next week, according to the reports, which indicate that the crop is very light in all sections. Wheat harvest will not start much before the last of July unless weather conditions hasten the maturity of the crops although early oats and barley will be cut in the near future. Grasshopper damage is reported from several localities.

Federal crop estimates for July 1, issued recently, showing that the indicated production on that date for wheat, rye, oats, and barley in North Dakota was 155,502,000 bushels, while the 1922 crop for these four grains aggregated 250,245,000 bushels, a decrease of 99,743,000 bushels, or slightly more than 37 per cent. In addition, market prices for these grains at the present time average considerably below those of a year ago, still further reducing the total value of the crop of small grain. The indicated production of flax is 50 per cent more than last year, or 8,207,000 bushels. The corn crop is indicated to be less than one per cent more than last year, while the potato acreage has decreased 25 per cent and the indicated production is more than a third less than a year ago.

Hail Losses Up.

Claims for hail losses are 70 per cent greater than a year ago at this time, according to Martin S. Hagen, department of the state hail insurance department, who announced the total claims filed up to Wednesday morning were 12,911 as compared with 7,609 at the same time a year ago. Heaviest losses during the past two weeks were sustained in Divide, Foster, McKenzie, McLean, Mountrail, Renville, Sheridan, Stark, Wells and Williams counties where the losses reported ranged from 200 to 700 for each county for the period from July 5 to July 17. Losses reported by counties for that period follow:

Following are the individual reports for the period ending last Saturday from the county agents:

"What is all headed out and the early seeded wheat is in blossom. With the exception of some fields which are very weedy, the crop is in good condition. Rye is filling well, and prospects are better than a month ago. Flax is in blossom, and the condition of the crop is good. Hay and pasture crops are doing well. Clear weather with no extreme temperatures prevailed during the week. Traces of black stem rust of wheat have been found."—Earl Swanson, Bowbells.

"Early seeded wheat is completely headed out, and late seeded is beginning to head. No rust has been found. Harvesting of a very light crop of rye will commence in a few days. The second crop of alfalfa and sweet clover is coming along in fine shape, and the corn crop looks the best in years. Local showers and (Continued on Page 2)

MILL BOARD TO TAKE CHARGE ON JULY 30

Will Manage State's Mill
and Elevator at Grand
Forks

The board of managers for the state mill and elevator at Grand Forks, the personnel of which was decided upon by the state industrial commission two weeks ago, today was formally named. The board will take over the management of the mill and elevator, as provided by an act of the 1923 legislature, on July 30, it was stated by Governor Nestos, chairman of the Industrial Commission.

An audit of the mill, both of the operating account and the construction account, now is being made with a cut-off date of June 30. Members of the board of managers are: J. R. Carley, Grand Forks, 6-year term; J. F. McGinnis, Fargo; Nick Nelson, Emery, 4 years each; James Whelan, St. Thomas, and Dr. E. N. Hegge, Hutton, two years each.

Governor Nestos, asked if the mill and elevator association would pay $147,162.07 interest said by the state treasurer to be due on bonds issued for the Grand Forks mill, said that it could only be paid by the association by borrowing money. No action is likely to be taken, he indicated, until the audit of the mill is completed and the exact status is made known.

CONVENTION TO BISMARCK

Title Men Accepted Invitation
Of This City

Bismarck will get the 1924 convention of the North Dakota Title Men's Association.

At the close of a two-day session in Grand Forks the title men accepted the invitation of A. J. Arnot of Bismarck to come here on Tuesday and Wednesday of the second week in July, next year.

A. W. Dennis, of Grand Forks, was re-elected president. Geo. Phelps of Bowbells, was re-elected vice-president. A. J. Arnot of Bismarck, as secretary, and R. L. Phelps of Steele, as treasurer.

The convention closed with a tour for the delegates to the state mill and elevator, where that plant was inspected under the guidance of experienced guides. Later in the afternoon, the delegates took in the state fair at Grand Forks.

TABERTS PLAN $100,000 SUIT

Minneapolis, July 19.—Suit for $100,000 damages, from the Putnam Lumber company, of which William Tabert, of St. Paul, is president, will be filed in a Wisconsin federal court within two weeks by Ben Tabert of Munich, N. D., father of Martin Tabert, victim of a Florida whipping boss. This was the announcement made here yesterday by Gudmundur Grimson, of Cavalier, N. D., county attorney who made the investigation which led to the trial and conviction of Thomas Walter Higginbotham, the former convict whipping boss, on a charge of second degree murder.

The Putnam Lumber company is incorporated under the laws of the state of Wisconsin and the civil action must be brought there, Mr. Grimson said.

WILL CLOSE STATE NORMAL

The state board of administration has formally approved closing of the Forestry Normal School of Bottineau after a second term of summer normal school.

LOCAL LABOR USE IS URGED BY GOVERNOR

Praises Cooperative Movement
Launched in Stutsman
Man Co. to Aid Harvest

Utilization of local labor wherever possible, through cooperation of farmers, business men and others is urged by Governor Nestos as a means of insuring harvest of North Dakota's grain crop at a reasonable cost to the farmers and to combat an I. W. W. agricultural strike.

"The most important problem now before our people is to create labor conditions that will make it possible for the farmers to harvest and thresh their grain and do it without having to bear an unreasonable cost," Governor Nestos said today.

"The threat of an I. W. W. strike among the floating laborers makes this even more imperative. I am glad to learn that in Stutsman county, where there is a very good crop, the people have already organized so as to marshal and use all available labor in town and country, to take care of the crop in that county without depending upon the I. W. W. or floating laborers.

"In many counties of the state the crop is so light that it is difficult to take care of what there is. My hope is that in every county in the state the example of the people of Stutsman county will be followed, and local forces so organized that the farmers, by using our own home help, exchanging work with neighbors and obtaining help from adjacent towns, will be able to handle the situation satisfactorily even though the I. W. W. should strike.

"This should and must be done without delay."

REQUISITION IS HONORED

Requisition for the return to Kenosha, Wisconsin, of Dr. George Thompson of Cathay to face a charge of deserting six minor children was honored by Governor Nestos yesterday, the requisition complying with requirements, in the opinion of the Governor. Frank S. Symonds, district attorney of Kenosha, Wis., presented the case, for the return of Thompson. Thompson resisted the requisition, and it was indicated that a writ of habeas corpus would be sought.

Grand Forks, N. D., July 19.—Major Manuel H. Sprague of Grafton, was elected president of the 164th society consisting of members of the old First North Dakota infantry, of the old First North Dakota infantry, of the Second North Dakota infantry and of the 164th North Dakota infantry of the World War days. The election was held in connection with the society's reunion at the North Dakota state fair.

Other officers are W. M. Gleason of Fargo, vice president; and Major B. C. Boyd of Grand Forks, secretary and treasurer.

LEAGUERS TO DEMAND A NEW ORGANIZATION

Want Townley, Lemke and
Present State Committee
To Step Out of Way

100 IN ATTENDANCE

Abandonment of Nonpartisan
League for Progressive Republican Party Talked

Valley City, July 19.—With the avowed purpose in view of reorganizing the state committee of the Nonpartisan League and forcing the calling of a state convention of the party this fall instead of next February, more than 100 leaguers met here this afternoon for a conference that was calculated to last all day and a portion of the night.

It was noticeable that there were few or any of the Townley or Lemke factions in the roster of delegates. It was reported that those in attendance will seek to drop both A. C. Townley, former head of the league, and William Lemke, former attorney-general.

The insurgents who are leading the anti-Townley faction are said to be John Andrews, editor and publisher of The Progressive, a league weekly newspaper, and Peter Arrhus.

Plans for creation of a new league, daily newspaper, "more democratic" government, and a complete account of finances of the league are expected to be made in the form of demands on the state committee now in power falling which, it is expected, reorganization of the state committee will be advanced.

NATIONAL LEADER DEAD

Fargo, July 19.—The National Leader, official organ of the National Nonpartisan league, is a thing of the past.

The organ ceases with the issue of this month, according to an announcement contained in The Leader.

Abandonment of the National Nonpartisan league as a distinct political unit is likewise indicated in the announcement.

Reasons given for the discontinuance of the paper are several, and all through the announcement runs the theme that the Nonpartisan league, as an organization, is itself virtually at the end of its rope.

SEES ONE HOPE

Fargo, N. D., July 19.—There is no hope for the Nonpartisan league at this time, according to P. L. Arrhus, business manager of John Andrews, "Progressive." He said:

"There is no hope for the League in North Dakota under its present control. The majority of the members have found out what Townley and Lemke are. We are sick and tired of boss rule and past mismanagement. The membership has been misled white under the leadership of these two men with no other result than they themselves are utterly discredited and the organization ruined. The Consumers Stores, the Sioux Trust, the Service Bureau, the bank schemes, all colossal failures, leaving the farmers holding the empty bag, have branded the promoters as entirely unfit for leadership in any movement. Their attempt to hold on means death to the League. They should have been eliminated long ago. The fact that they have been able to pull the wool over the eyes of the Leaguers so long augurs ill for the organization. Unless the Leaguers can get together and oust them promptly the League is dead in North Dakota.

"I really believe there is no other way for the people of this state who believe in the League program and League principles to continue the movement except by reorganizing as progressive Republicans. That, I think, will be the ultimate development from the present situation."

Reject Bids On State Bonds

North Dakota bonds are worth considerably more than par, the state industrial commission believes. Acting in this belief the commission rejected another bid for a block of bids, submitted last yesterday by C. W. Whittey & Co., A. M. Lambert & Co. and Love, McCumber & Co., all of New York. The syndicate offered $500,000 in state bonds and $300,000 in mill and elevator bonds conditional upon granting of a 60-day option for $2,000,000 additional real estate and $700,000 mill and elevator operating bonds. Members of the commission held the premium not sufficient and the option asked too long.

Meetings will be held from time to time, it was said. Another syndicate of eastern investment houses has been working on the proposition, the commission was informed.

WILDROSE, N. D., RESIDENT DROWNED

Moose Jaw, Sask.—Alfred Evanson of Wildrose, N. D., lost his life while in bathing at Wood End, a summer resort on Long creek, eight miles south of Estevan, according to word received here. A companion swimmer made every effort to save Evanson, but his attempts were futile. The body was recovered.

SCHOOL BOARD BUDGET FIXED FOR NEW YEAR

Put at $128,000 as Compared to About $120,000 for the
Past Year, Announcement

TO HAVE NEW SCHOOL

$11,000 Expense Figured
There — Board Now Has
Clean Financial Slate

The city school board for next year has been fixed by the board at $128,000 as compared to $120,000 fixed by the board last year. The increase in the budget is made necessary, according to members of the board, because of additional expense which will be incurred in operating the new Riverview school for six months, from next January 1.

Under the new limitation law of the legislature, the school levy permitted in a city such as Bismarck is 18 mills. The valuation of the property in the city has not been completed, but it is likely to be a little in excess of $6,000,000, or slightly higher than last year. This levy will not produce all the money needed by the board to run the schools. It is expected, however, that the city board will receive about $15,000 from the state tuition fund. The board hopes, with this amount, to be able to get through the next school year satisfactorily.

It is estimated that the cost of operating the new Riverview school for six months will be about $11,000. Work is progressing rapidly on the exterior of the two-story brick building, but it is not likely to be ready for occupancy before about the first of the year.

The board closed last year's business, squeezing out with a slight surplus, according to members. The board had borrowed some money from the sinking fund to meet current expenses. This was paid back and there is a surplus for the year of about $5,000. All bills are paid and there are no warrants outstanding, it was said by Richard Penwarden, clerk of the board.

The board last year fixed the budget at about $120,000, which was reduced by the county board under the limitation law to about $104,000, according to officials. The state tuition fund helped to make up the difference.

Valuation of property in the district last year was $5,340,629.

Burleigh county owes the school board $61,000 in uncollected taxes, according to Mr. Penwarden, who added that there is a good chance of much of this being collected, which would put the school finances in excellent shape.

Teachers' salaries will be slightly less this year than last, due to the repeal of the minimum wage law, which provided a graduated salary schedule, increasing with experience and training. The maximum teacher's salary to be paid next year will be $150. There will be no mid-year promotions in the schools next year, this having been abolished by vote of the board. The new Riverview school also will relieve overcrowding. Both of these will be factors in easing the work of the teachers in the schools, according to members of the board.

President Lenhart of the board said that it had reduced expenses to a minimum. No courses are changed, repairs are being made as needed, sufficient money appropriated to provide excellent teachers and keep up the high standing of the schools, but all "extras" have been eliminated, he said.

DUIS AGAIN HEADSGROWERS

Elected President of North
Dakota Wheat Growers

Grand Forks, July 19.—Geo. E. Duis of this city, was re-elected president of the North Dakota Wheat Growers' association at the annual meeting of the organization here. A. Meecham of Edinburg, was named vice president; A. J. Scott, Grand Forks, secretary-treasurer.

Members of the executive committee, as selected are: A. Meecham, A. N. Winge of Van Hook, O. G. Bothen and W. G. Ginther, both of Langdon.

The annual meeting opened with practically a 100 per cent attendance of directors. Mr. Duis, in reviewing the work of the association during the past year, at the opening session pointed out that the membership had grown to nearly 11,000 and that about four million bushels of wheat were handled and marketed by the organization since last August, at prices somewhat above usual prices.

The North Dakota Wheat Growers association will hold for the wheat left on its hands from the 1922 pool as the result of the recent drop in prices it was decided by the board of directors. In the meantime an effort will be made to obtain a loan on the wheat from which temporary advances will be made to members of the pool.

Disposition of about 300,000 bushels of wheat remaining of the 1922 pool was a big problem before directors. The wheat remained unsold because of the sharp drop in prices this spring.

HOUSE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING AS MERCURY AND NEAR CLOUDBURST ARE COMBINED IN UNUSUAL DAY

Mandan, July 19.—The first heat prostration of the summer occurred this morning when Clement Farr, son of A. W. Farr, was overcome while driving a delivery truck. He was taken to the hospital and his condition is not serious. The Great Plains weather station recorded a maximum of 96 degrees yesterday.

A house struck by lightning, a temperature within a half degree of the summer's maximum record and a remarkably heavy shower which did not extend much beyond Mandan, made up the story of an unusual afternoon in the weather history of Bismarck yesterday.

During the storm which descended on the city about six o'clock last evening lightning struck the home of John Jochim, in the 800 block on Twelfth street. The chimney on the house was shattered, a piece torn from the walls of the bath room, and a small bit taken out of the porcelain bath tub as the lightning shot down along the chimney and spent its force in the bath room.

No one was injured, but when the house was struck the crash was so loud that people residing in the entire block were almost stunned by the terrific report of thunder which followed almost instantly. No other reports of damage had been made today.

The thermometer had started crawling toward the season's record early in the afternoon. It reached 94—within a half degree of the record—when a light rain began, to be succeeded later by a heavy shower.

The weather bureau's report showed it rained 1.22 inches, the heaviest downpour in a short period this year. In Mandan 1.30 inches fell between 2 and 6 o'clock, although it did not extend much east of Bismarck or Mandan. Rain fell only at three other weather stations of the state—0.4 at Grand Forks, .21 at Jamestown and .40 at Pembina, all thundershowers.

The high pressure areas in Canada and on the Pacific coast, which were expected to bring relief here, have scarcely moved, weather reports showed today. There is prospect, however, of cooler weather in the central and eastern portions of the state.

MAY DIVIDE McHENRY CO.

Velva, N. D., July 19.—The question of dividing McHenry county is at issue again, and there is every indication that it will be submitted to the voters at the 1924 election.

In its early developments the issue appears to be an argument between the north half and the south half of the county. Editorial comments in two papers this week indicate to some extent the trend of the arguments. The Bantry Advocate suggested that division would mean that "we might get some work done over here, instead of all it being done in the south section." The Velva Journal declared that the county is large enough to make two good sized counties, and that it could be divided "without fuss." It said that economy and justice demand the division.

Several citizens in each section of the county now are working on plans for submitting the division question to the voters.

TWO ARRESTED IN MERCER CO.

One Given Stiff Fine and Jail
Sentence for Assault

Golden Valley, N. D., July 19.—Guy Chadwick, charged with assault and battery upon Anton Langhaugen at Bismarck, where mine trouble has been brewing, was fined and assessed costs of $50 and sentenced to 30 days in the Mercer county jail, the jail sentence being suspended during good behavior. The case of John Bies, also arrested on a charge of assaulting Langhaugen, was continued according to information from the office of David Schwartz, states attorney.

Chadwick and Bies were taken before Justice H. O. Chilson of Zap.

HELD AFTER FATAL TRAGEDY

South Dakota Man Charged
With Murder in Shooting
Neighbor

Sioux Falls, S. D., July 19.—Charles L. Ferguson, will appear for a preliminary hearing in municipal court at 2 o'clock this afternoon charged with the murder of Eugene Griffin, 42, a neighbor of Ferguson, as a result of an altercation over the crowing of a rooster in Ferguson's garden early yesterday morning.

The accused was placed under arrest yesterday on a complaint of States Attorney Campbell and released later on bond of $10,000.

Ferguson is alleged to have shot and killed Griffin after the latter, awakened by the crowing of a rooster belonging to Ferguson.

HETTINGER WANTS MEN

2,000 Needed For Harvest,
Board of County Commissioners Says

Two thousand men are wanted for harvest in Hettinger county, according to a statement of the board of county commissioners of that county, received by the Tribune.

Men are needed now for haying, for rye harvest July 20.

"Big crop of barley, oats, wheat and corn will keep good men busy until snow flies. Heaviest demand for men will be about August 1," says the statement.

STATE'S LOSS IN BUILDERS TO BE GREAT

May Exceed $250,000 Under
Settlements to be Made on
Court Decision

NOW IS $113,256.76

Increase Is Seen Because of
High Cost of Houses Built
By The State

Ultimate losses of the Home Building Association, one of the state's enterprises, probably will be $250,000 or greater, according to the opinion of many closely connected with the winding up of affairs of this business, as a result of settlements which will be made in accordance with the decision of the supreme court yesterday in the George E. Wallace case.

The Home Building Association was shown in the Bishop, Brismarck audit made when the present administration succeeded the Nonpartisan administration to have a deficit of $113,256.76. This report carried the charges against persons for whom homes were built at the figures which were shown on the books. Under the supreme court decision the home buyers may get the home at the reasonable value of the property, which is generally admitted by officials to be much lower than the price the Home Building Association demanded. A loss of $250,000 would represent a loss of almost $5,000 on each home built or bought for sale by the state association.

Fifty-seven houses and one barn were built, or bought and sold, by the Home Building Association during its regime. Of these 58 were constructed by the association. Twenty-four were in Bismarck, 21 in Fargo, 10 in Mandan, two in Edinburg. When the present administration took charge it was found no contracts had been signed by parties in the case of 51 homes.

Contracts had been signed for the house built for J. B. Adams, former manager of the association; the William Lemke house, Fargo, and the house built for R. R. McClintock at Fargo was rejected by him.

The Home Building Association received an appropriation of $100,000, owed the Bank of North Dakota according to the bank's statement of June 30 last, $454,355.72 and had received a few thousand dollars from home buyers in payments and loan contracts.

P. E. Diehl, until recently manager of the association, declined to comment on the effect of the supreme court decision except to say that he believed his former estimate of ultimate losses of perhaps $250,000 would be approximately correct.

Attorney-General Shafer, asked as to the effect of the supreme court decision in the Wallace case on other suits, declined comment until he had examined the decision closely. Other suits pending include that against John N. Hagan and C. O. Fossum and the suit of David J. Hull against the state.

PATROL TO CURB I. W. W.
Egeland, N. D., July 19.—Egeland will take no chances with I. W. W. or other disturbers of the peace and has revived the patrol system which proved so successful last year.

Twenty-five men have been enrolled and each night will take turns patrolling the town. When the list has been worked through the head of the list will automatically take up the patrol in his turn.

Each night the town will be patrolled by two men each armed with shotgun and pistol to prevent any disorder or crimes.

CONDITIONS, HOWEVER, SAID UNACCEPTABLE

Would Cease Passive Resistance
if France Would Reduce Force to Skeleton

MAKE PROPOSALS

Seeking to Have British Embodiment German Views in Forthcoming Note

Paris, July 19.—The German government, through its embassies in London, is striving to have the forthcoming note on reparations convey to the French government Germany's willingness to cease passive resistance in the Ruhr, subject to certain concessions on the part of France. This information has reached the French government on what is regarded as unquestionable but unofficial authority.

These concessions appear to include:

1. Withdrawal of the Franco-Belgian troops of occupation with the exception of a mere skeleton military force which would in the diplomatic sense be "invisible."
2. Permission for the German officials and functionaries expelled from the Ruhr to return to their posts, restoring the local administration of all civil services as it existed before January 11 when the occupation took place.
3. That the French government agree to restore the currency confiscated.

The conditions, it is declared here, would be unacceptable to the French government because they are accompanied by any definite assurances or guarantees that reparations payments would be forthcoming.

Likewise it is explained that the French government feels that since it is enforcing the peace treaty and Germany is refusing to agree to it, it would not be equitable that Germany should impose conditions instead of yielding to the French demands.

AGAINST BLOCKADE

Berlin, July 19.—German representatives in London, Rome, Washington and the Vatican have been instructed to make representations against prolongation of the traffic blockade between the occupied and unoccupied territories of Germany, according to a semi-official statement.

CABINETS MEETS

London, July 19.—The British cabinet held a protracted session this morning at which the proposed reparations document formed the chief topic of discussion.

Up to the early afternoon it was still uncertain whether the document—the draft of the reply to Germany's accompanying note—would be forwarded to other governments, including the United States, tonight.

FINE WHEAT SOUTH OF HERE

J. B. Saylor Declares He Has
Best 80 Acres of Wheat
To Be Found

A challenge to anyone to show a better field of wheat between Hazelton, Braddock and Bismarck than he has on his farm just over the Emmons county line from Burleigh county is made by J. B. Saylor of Bismarck.

Mr. Saylor has an 80-acre tract of No. 1 northern wheat which stands three feet high. It ought to make 25 bushels to the acre easily, he said. The only enemies it has now, he said, are hail and rust.

Olaf Felthelm has about the best field of rye south of the city. Mr. Saylor declared. Mr. Felthelm's farm is about on the Burleigh-Emmons county line. It ought to make 20 bushels to the acre, Mr. Saylor said.

August Bentz, he declares, has the best corn. He lives in southern Burleigh county. The corn is as high as one's head, Mr. Saylor said.

Crops in southern Burleigh and Emmons counties are declared by Mr. Saylor to be the best ever.

BANDITS BLOW BADGER BANK

Blue River, Wis., July 19.—Robbers entered the Blue River State Bank last night, blew the safe and escaped with $4,000 in cash and an undetermined amount in United States bonds. The robbers cut all wires and their visit was not known until attempts were made to establish telephone communication this morning.

TWO NATIONS UNDER ONE FLAG!

For the first time in history British troops marched in an American Independence Day parade, when, at Portland, Ore., recently, British marines from H. M. S. Curlew participated. They are shown here marching through an American street. A special dispensation was granted by the War Department to permit a foreign armed guard to march through an American street in his speech the president expressed the hope that a greater representation of the British navy always would march alongside of American troops in "processions of peace."

CASH FOR GENIUS

MR. AND MRS. JULIUS FORSTMANN AND (INSET) THEIR SON, THE LATE CARL FORSTMANN.

By NEA Service
Passaic, N. J., July 18.—Can cash bring out genius?

Can money stimulate ambition? Julius Forstmann, wealthy philanthropist, and his wife, wanted to find out. So they set aside a fund of $250,000 to assist the youth of the country "to attain to a large measure of self-realization and social usefulness."

And now they are swamped with applicants. So great has the rush become that a special office has been opened with a large corps of workers to handle the claims.

Boys who want to get an education and can't afford it, men who have a pet invention but no money to put it over, visionaries who would rearrange the world, if only they had the chance—are all striving to get their share of the fund.

Back of it is the memory of a boy who died when he was 18. Carl Forstmann was the son of the philanthropist, a millionaire textile manufacturer here, and it is to his memory that the fund has been named the Carl Forstmann Memorial Foundation.

The fund is not an endowment with only the interest, available, says Forstmann. "It is a working capital, every last cent of which will be used. Neither will it be limited necessarily to $250,000."

"I want to assist boys and young men who are hampered by financial circumstances to attain their ambitions. If they have ability and character I believe I can help them. At the same time I want to perpetuate the influence for intelligence, integrity and industry which would have been my son's had he been permitted to live."

Grants, according to the Forstmann plan, may be either awards or loans. A committee of representative business men and a pastor has been appointed which will expend the money for "education or training of any grade, degree or kind; the prosecution of useful experimentation and research; physical correction and rehabilitation; the realization of any particularly worthy ambition, which, with assistance, offers a strong likelihood of success."

What's Going on in the World

BY CHARLES P. STEWART.
NEA Service Writer.

A diminutive wood-shack, cow-town in the northwest, with 600 inhabitants, aspired to be heard round the world. It was!

Now this little town of Shelby, Mont., 100 miles north of Great Falls, has settled down to its former state of comparative oblivion, trying to recuperate from what is generally considered the greatest fiasco in the history of sports. It was the Dempsey-Gibbons fight, July 4, for the world's heavyweight championship, from which Dempsey came out victor after 15 hard-fought rounds.

Upon evacuation of the town the next day, Shelby began to recount its losses to some $75,000. Shelby's loss is Dempsey's gain, and that of his promoter, Jack Kearns, for these left the west with something like $240,000 in their jeans.

Yet Shelby, like the boastful frog which blew itself up till it burst, had promised Kearns $310,000 before the fight, and could scrape together only two-thirds of the sum.

"Shelby's folly" this event will be referred to in history. Shelby, retiring into its oil-boom, cow-town shell, is trying to live it down.

LEVIATHAN OFF.
July 4 saw the departure from New York of the United States liner Leviathan, largest steamship afloat, which had been reconditioned by the government for trans-Atlantic service. The ship formerly was the German liner Vaterland, which had been confiscated by the government at the beginning of the war.

Now an argument is proceeding as to whether the German sailors on leaving practiced sabotage on the liner. Former Secretary of Navy Josephus Daniels says they did.

MEDICINAL LIQUOR.

Since Congress gave assent for the use of alcohol for medicinal purposes, its boomerang has come back in the form of a decision by Federal Judge George M. Bourquin, at Helena, Mont., that the physician can no longer be told what quantities he may prescribe.

Judge Bourquin practically declared unconstitutional that part of the Volstead act which seeks to limit for the world. Edward W. Bok of Philadelphia offers the amazing sum of $100,000 to the one who formulates the best and most workable plan by which the United States may co-operate with other nations to achieve and preserve world peace.

Anyone may try. And judging from reports, everyone is trying. Money, as always, is the lure. The first $50,000 will be paid for the idea; the second one when its practicability is demonstrated.

GARY PROMISES.

Stirred by public opinion and the words of President Harding, E. H. Gary of the U. S. Steel Corporation and American Iron and Steel Institute announces he will do all in his power to abolish the 12-hour day in the steel industry. It will require at least 60,000 more laborers he says, and will add about 15 per cent to the cost of the finished product.

Churches, welfare organizations and philanthropic societies, that have worked for years to eliminate the long Indian shift in the steel mills, rejoice at the announcement. They now await its execution, for they think Gary the only man who can do it.

Gary expects to realize the 8-hour day with the aid of colored workers from the south and immigrants now flocking to this country.

ROMANCE OF DE MORES IS TOLD IN STORY

Miss Bertha Palmer Gathers Pictures and Writings of Medora Badlands

HISTORIC BACKGROUND

Much of the romance surrounding Medora, the Bad Lands, and the Marquis de Mores is contained in the group of pictures and stories about the various places and persons which has been collected by Miss Bertha R. Palmer, chairman of the art division of the North Dakota Federated Women's clubs and arranged in portfolio form to be used by the club women of the entire state in their study of the "Beauty Spots" and "Monuments and Memorials" of North Dakota during the club season.

Probably as interesting a group of pictures and articles as contained in the collection are those connected with the "rise and fall of the de Mores power at Medora." Pictures are shown of the old Chateau de Mores, lived in by the Marquis de Mores and his wife, Medora von Hoffman, daughter of Baron von Hoffman, one of New York's wealthiest bankers. There is the picture of the little brick church built by the Marquis, the little brick house built for Baron von Hoffman, the old hunting coach of the Marquis, and panoramic views of the Bad Lands, Medora, photographs of Marquis and Madame de Mores made at Otto studio in Paris in 1882. James Foley, the poet, his father and his stepmother Mrs. Gertrude Foley, and others.

Accompanying the pictures, a number of which were sent by Kate H. Brower of Marshall, are articles of all descriptions. One of the most interesting articles of the group is a feature story written by Mrs. Brower and published in the "St. Paul Sunday Pioneer Press" of Dec. 17, 1922 about "Real chateau in Dakota Badlands marks faded dream of empire." In speaking of this country with its picturesque history and scenic beauty Mrs. Brower says: "Medora's historical background is as picturesque as its physical setting. And its present state of innocuous desuetude is no more pathetic than is the story of the man who built the town, gave to it the name of his wife and spent more than $1,000,000 in a vain effort to establish a colossal industry in the heart of the old cattle country."

"Historians have dwelt at length on Theodore Roosevelt's career as a cowboy near Medora. Of the other man, Antoine de Valloombrosa, Marquis de Mores, they have spoken only incidentally. For man is— and his shall be measured by his accomplishments. But though the brilliant schemes of the Marquis failed utterly the landmarks he left behind cannot help but fascinate those of us who achieve a thrill, vicariously, by delving into the days that are dead. . . . "With unlimited capital at his disposal the Marquis de Mores 'built this city' without thought of expense. He erected a trading store, a brick hotel, a church, and a brick residence for his father-in-law when the gentleman should desire to sojourn in the Bad Lands. . . .

"The chateau, patterned after Washington's home on the Potomac, was to be a summer home for the Marquis and the Madame. A 'country seat' it was in effect from whose vantage shall the Madams might watch the rise of her husband's undertakings; where she might rest from the social life of New York and Paris, and which should serve as a base of supplies for hunting trips on those rare occasions when the marquis could desist from the great task remaining before him.

"To the thirty-room castle, then shortly after its completion came the beautiful Madame de Mores. With her arrived some twenty-two servants and a fair proportion of the good things of life, which, to one of cultured tastes, would be indispensable even on the frontier. The chateau was furnished throughout; rich rugs, china, plate, pictures, heavily canopied beds, paintings, and books, books, books."

"The present interest in state history which exists in the club women of the state has naturally resulted in the women of the state becoming interested in collecting the history and pictures of beauty spots in North Dakota. Each spot will be complete with description and pictures."

RUST TO CUT WHEAT YIELD IN N. DAKOTA

Winter rye is being harvested but the crop is poor, and a large amount is being plowed under. Early seeded wheat is ripening, and will be ready to cut in two weeks. Late seeded wheat is in fair condition. The wheat is generally thin, but is generally of good quality except where damaged by grasshoppers and on weedy soil by drouth. Early seeded oats, barley, flax and potatoes are in a fair to good condition, but late crops have suffered from drouth. Corn is making excellent growth and promises a fair crop. Potato bugs are numerous, and farmers are busy spraying. Haying is on in full swing, and labor is needed. Farmers are still putting up the first crop of clover and alfalfa hay. Grasshoppers are still numerous, and are doing considerable damage in the northern part of the county, where crops are pretty well done."—E. C. Thomas, Towns.

PORT ARTHUR NOT AFRAID OF L. W. W. HORDE

Report Reached That 20,000 Will Descend on City of 22,000 Population

Port Arthur, Tex., July 19.—Imminent influx of L. W. W. crusaders estimated to be more than 20,000 today found this city of 22,000 untroubled. Announcement by John Duntz, secretary-treasurer, New York, that the pilgrimage has begun from all over the country by foot, freight train and sea to protect the rights of three members said to have been spirited away and severely beaten by unidentified parties today found local authorities volunteering little information as to plans for their reception.

Corroboration of the report by John Aaron, secretary of the Marine Transport Workers branch, San Francisco, found him likewise non-committal.

What was plainly outspoken was that arrest will be made of all persons without visible means of support in event of their conviction as vagrants it is declared possible they will be assigned to work on road and bridge building gangs. There is an abundance of this kind of work in Jefferson county.

Difficultly owing to hot weather and clouds of mosquitoes is being experienced in keeping road laborers on the roads and officials conceded it was not unlikely that L. W. W. arrested may be used to fill the ranks. Meanwhile Port Arthur officials have not asked the Governor to act as assistance in handling the situation.

GIRL ADMITS SHE ATTACKED STEP-MOTHER

Mary Lewando Is Found in Swamp After an 8-Day Search by Officers

Wausau, July 19.—Mary Lewando, who was found in a swamp near here late yesterday after an eight day search, confessed to Sheriff Arthur Seward early today that she attacked her stepmother, Mrs. Anna Lewando, on the night of July 10, beating her over the head with a club.

The girl, according to the sheriff, refused to make known the reason for the attack other than to say she had "trouble" with Mrs. Lewando.

The girl was captured in a swamp six miles south of here last night, the climax of an eight-day hunt and is in a local hospital recovering from the effects of her wandering.

When taken by the sheriff's posse last night the girl's condition was such she could not talk above a whisper. She spent a partly delirious night, hospital authorities said, but indicated by a shake of her head that she knew nothing of the attack on her step-mother.

PORT ARTHUR NOT AFRAID OF I. W. W. HORDE

Report Reached That 20,000 Will Descend on City of 22,000 Population

Port Arthur, Tex., July 19.—Immigrant influx of I. W. W. crusaders estimated to be more than 20,000 today found this city of 20,000 unconcerned. Announcement by John Dusty, secretary-treasurer, New York, that the pilgrimage has begun from all over the country by foot, freight train and sea to protect the rights of three members said to have been spirited away and severely beaten by unidentified parties today found local authorities volunteering little information as to plans for their reception.

Corroboration of the report by John Aaron, secretary of the Marine Transport Workers branch, San Francisco, found him likewise non-committal.

What was plainly outspoken was that arrest will be made of all persons without visible means of support. In event of their conviction as vagrants it is declared possible they will be assigned to work on road and bridge building gangs. There is an abundance of this kind of work in Jefferson county.

Difficulty owing to hot weather and clouds of mosquitoes is being experienced in keeping road laborers on the roads and officials conceded it was not unlikely that I. W. W. arrested may be used to fill the ranks. Meanwhile Port Arthur officials have not asked the Governor to act as assistance in handling the situation.

MAN FASTED FOR 70 DAYS

Remarkable Story Told After Death of Minnesota Man

Minneapolis, July 19.—A remarkable story of how an aged man voluntarily fasted 70 days and retained his strength until within a week of his death was disclosed by relatives of Jonas Forse, who died at his farm home.

The story was told by C. R. Anderson, son-in-law of the man, and was corroborated by the attending physician, Dr. Charles Swenson of Durham. According to Anderson, the aged man suffered from paralytic strokes at intervals during the past four years.

GIRL ADMITS SHE ATTACKED STEP-MOTHER

Mary Lewando Is Found in Swamp After an 8-Day Search by Officers

Wausau, July 19.—Mary Lewando, who was found in a swamp near here late yesterday after an eight day search, confessed to Sheriff Arthur Seward early today that she attacked her stepmother, Mrs. Anna Lewando, on the night of July 10, beating her over the head with a club.

The girl, according to the sheriff, refused to make known the reason for the attack other than to say she had had "trouble" with Mrs. Lewando.

The girl was captured in a swamp six miles south of here last night, the climax of an eight-day hunt and is in a local hospital recovering from the effects of her wandering.

When taken by the sheriff's posse last night the girl's condition was such she could not talk above a whisper. She spent a partly delirious night, hospital authorities said, but indicated by a shake of her head that she knew nothing of the attack on her step-mother.

ROMANCE OF DE MORES IS TOLD IN STORY

Miss Bertha Palmer Gathers Pictures and Writings of Medora Badlands

HISTORIC BACKGROUND

Much of the romance surrounding Medora, the Bad Lands, and the Marquis de Mores is contained in the series of pictures and stories about the various places and persons which has been collected by Miss Bertha R. Palmer, chairman of the art division of the North Dakota Federated Women's clubs and arranged in portfolio form to be used by the club women of the entire state in their study of the "Beauty Spots" and "Monuments and Memorials" of North Dakota during the club season.

Probably as interesting a group of pictures and articles as has been collected in the collection are those connected with the "power at Medora."

Stories are shown of the old Chateau de Mores, lived in by the Marquis de Mores and his wife, Medora von Hoffman, daughter of Baron von Hoffman, one of New York's wealthiest bankers. There is the picture of the little brick church built by the Marquis, the little brick house built for Baron von Hoffman, the old hunting coach of the Marquis, and panoramic views of the Bad Lands, Medora, photographs of Marquis and Madame de Mores made at Otto studio in Paris in 1882, of James Foley, the poet, his father and his stepmother Mrs. Gertrude Foley, and others.

Accompanying the pictures, a number of which were sent by Kate H. Brower of Parshall, are articles of all descriptions. One of the most interesting articles of the group is a feature story written by Mrs. Brower and published in the "St. Paul Sunday Pioneer Press" of Dec. 17, 1922 about "Real chateau in Dakota Badlands marks faded dream of empire." In speaking of this country with its picturesque history and scenic beauty Mrs. Brower says:

"Medora's historical background is as picturesque as its physical setting. And its present state of incognitum desuetude is no more pathetic than is the story of the man who built the chateau, gave it the name of his wife and spent more than $1,000,000 in a vain effort to establish a colossal industry in the heart of the old cattle country."

"Historians have dwelt at length on Theodore Roosevelt's career as a cowboy near Medora. Of the other man, Antoine de Vallombrosa, Marquis de Mores, they have spoken only incidentally. For man is ever shall be measured by his accomplishments. But though the brilliant schemes of the Marquis failed utterly, the landmarks he left behind cannot help but fascinate those of us who achieve a thrill, vicariously, by venturing into the days that are dead. . . . "With unlimited capital at his disposal the Marquis de Mores built this city, without thought of expense. He erected a trading store, a brick hotel, a church, and a brick residence for his father-in-law when the gentleman should desire to sojourn in the Bad Lands. . . .

"The chateau, patterned after Washington's home on the Potomac, was to be a summer home for the Marquis and the Madame. A 'country seat' it was in effect from whose vantage point the Madame might watch the rise of her husband's vast undertakings where she might rest from the social life of New York and Paris, and which should serve as a base of supplies for hunting trips on those rare occasions when the marquis could desert from the great task remaining before him. . . . "To the thirty-room castle, then shortly after its completion came the beautiful Madame de Mores. With her arrived some twenty-two servants and a fair proportion of the good things of life, which, to one of cultured tastes, would be indispensable even on the frontier. The chateau was furnished throughout; rich rugs, china, plate, pictures, heavily canopied beds, paintings, and books, books, books."

"The present interest in state history which exists in the state has naturally resulted in the club women of the state have naturally resulted in the women of the state becoming interested in collecting the history and pictures of beauty spots in North Dakota. Each spot will be complete with description and pictures."

Wheat is being harvested but the crop is poor, and a large amount is being plowed under. Early seeded wheat is ripening, and will be ready to cut in two weeks. Late seeded wheat is in fair condition. The wheat is generally thin, but is generally of good quality, except where damaged by grasshoppers and on weedy soil by wild oats. Early seeded oats, barley, flax and potatoes are in a fair to good condition, but late crops have suffered from drought. Corn is making excellent growth and promises a fair crop. Potato bugs are numerous, and farmers are busy spraying. Hay is in good condition, and a good crop of alfalfa is being made. Grasshoppers are still numerous, and are doing considerable damage in the northern part of the county, where crops are pretty well gone. —M. C. Thomas, Towner.

Break All Rules of Fashion and You'll Be Distinctively Dressed Says Noted Designer

BY MARIAN HALE
NEA Service Writer

New York, July 19.—"Introduce the jazz note in your costume if you wish to be smart," says Tokio, one of the most original fashion designers in New York.

"Get off the customary rhythms of blouse, skirt and hat if you wish to be distinctly smart."

"Consistency may be a jewel, but it is no longer a fashionable one. If you can just start a little discussion between your gown and your garter, or strange your hat and costume, and do it subtly, artistically and provocatively, you have the making of a sartorial success."

Tokio himself, who has another name—Tweed (but no one ever uses it)—is one of the most successful dressers and successful business women of the metropolis.

From portrait painter, she turned into a fashion designer. The first things she designed were for the Princeton Triangle Club shows when she was living in Princeton.

With the Best. They were so enthusiastically received she decided to plunge right in on a big scale. So she rented and equipped a shop in New York right in the swaggar Fifties, among all the smart shops that boast they carry nothing but importation, and went to work.

She announced frankly she had never been to Paris, and never expected to go there.

DEATH CAME INSTANTLY IN AUTO CRASH

Miss Gustavison Crashed As Machine Turned Turtle. Additional Reports Say

Funeral services for Miss Eleanor Gustavison, who met her death Sunday morning near Norwalk, Ohio, were held at Albert Lea, Minnesota, yesterday afternoon. Services were in Christ Episcopal church at 3:30 o'clock, with Rev. Russell, of St. George's church, Minneapolis, and formerly pastor of the Episcopal church of Bismarck of which the deceased was a member, officiating. Interment was in the family lot in Graceland cemetery.

Additional details on the accident were brought from Albert Lea by relatives. Miss Gustavison was driving with her brother and his wife toward Tiffin, Ohio, her brother's home. The front axle of the automobile broke and the machine jumped off the road and down an embankment, landing bottom side up, with Miss Gustavison and her brother, Rolla, beneath. Her chest was crushed and she received other internal injuries, which caused virtually instantaneous death. Rolla was crushed and injured internally. Last reports from the hospital at Norwalk stated that Rolla is very low and that little hope is entertained for his recovery.

A large crowd of friends and neighbors attended the funeral services held at St. Mary's Pro-cathedral this morning for Frank Heintzman, proprietor of the G. & W. Battery company, who passed away Tuesday morning as a result of heart trouble and complications.

The many beautiful wreaths and bouquets of flowers piled high on the funeral bier and surrounding the altar were tokens of the esteem felt by friends for the passing of such an estimable citizen. In delivering his address Father Slag spoke of the wonderful fight and patient struggle of the young man during the long months of suffering and illness; he spoke touchingly of his devotion to his friend's exemplary life. At the close of the impressive service at the church the deceased was laid to rest in St. Mary's cemetery. Acting as pallbearers were: Al Simons, Tom Galvin, Louis Fibeser, W. H. Murphy, J. P. "A Man of Action," Thomas H. Ince's mysterious comedy-drama keeps everyone guessing from start to finish. Even swifter and funnier than in his celebrated comedy "Twenty-Three and One-Half Hours' Leave" is Douglas MacLean, the spoiled child of fortune who turns crook for a day.

This mirthful-mystery story of the astonishing adventures of a young San Francisco millionaire who is forced to "swipe" his own jewels is to be shown at the Eltinge Friday and Saturday. Raymond Hinton, who furnished lots of fun as the butler in the "Hottentot," also appears in "A Man of Action."

The subject which has been assigned in the contest is "Why America Should Prohibit Immigration for five years." The scholarship prizes consist of $500, first; $500, second; and $250, third prize. This money will be used only towards scholarships in colleges designated by the winner while a silver medal will be given as a first prize; a bronze medal for second, and a certificate of merit for third.

Break All Rules of Fashion and You'll Be Distinctively Dressed Says Noted Designer

TOKIO, IN A GOWN OF HER OWN CREATION

BY MARIAN HALE
NEA Service Writer

New York, July 19.—"Introduce the jazz note in to your costume if you wish to be smart," says Tokio, one of the most original fashion designers in New York.

"Get off the customary rhythms of blouse, skirt and hat if you wish to be distinctly 1923," she advises. "Consistency may be a jewel, but it is no longer a fashionable one. If you can just start a little discussion between your gown and your earring, or strange your hat and costume, and do it subtly, artistically and provocatively, you have the making of a sartorial success."

Tokio herself, who has another name, Powell (but no one ever uses it), is one of the most successful dressers and successful business women of the metropolis. Her portrait painter, she turned into a fashion designer. The first things she designed were for the Princeton Triangle Club shows when she was living in Princeton.

With the Best
They were so enthusiastically received she decided to plunge right in on a big scale. So she rented and equipped a shop in New York right in the swaggy fifties, among all the smart shops that boast they carry nothing but importation, and went to work.

She announced frankly she had never been to Paris, and never expected to go there for her styles, that she wasn't influenced by them in the least. But she was tremendously interested in the American woman.

And now her American styles are so popular she can't fill all the orders she gets.

"Non-conformity is my motto, because the only way to be distinctive is to be different, and to be different you must have some ideas of your own that run counter to Paris."

"The American girl is unlike every other girl, because she is a composite type, and she should show this in her clothes."

What's Ahead
"This season, elegance will be the keynote of styles, I believe. The flapper has turned into a lady. We are going to see ruffled frocks that lie on the floor when you sit down, and have yards and yards of cloth in them. They will require large hats, French heels and jewelry."

"Skirts will be long generally, but the length should always be determined by the height and general build of the wearer, never by rule. Waistlines will go back to normal, just for the novelty of it."

"But the smart woman will observe no rules. She will wear carolings with her sport suit, if it pleases her, and a floppy hat with a tailored suit if it seems right."

"In no respect have women gained their rights so completely as in the world of fashion."

DEATH CAME INSTANTLY IN AUTO CRASH

Miss Gustavison Crushed As Machine Turned Turtle, Additional Reports Say

Funeral services for Miss Eleanor Gustavison, who met her death Sunday morning near Norwalk, Ohio, were held at Albert Lea, Minnesota, yesterday afternoon. Services were in Christ Episcopal church at 3:30 o'clock, with Rev. Buzzelle, of St. George's church, Minneapolis, and formerly pastor of the Episcopal church of Bismarck of which the deceased was a member, officiating. Interment was in the family lot in Graceland cemetery.

Additional details on the accident were brought from Albert Lea by relatives. Miss Gustavison was driving with her brother and his wife toward Tiffin, Ohio, her brother's home. The front axle of the automobile broke and the machine plunged off the road and down an embankment, landing bottom side up, with Miss Gustavison and her brother, Rolla, beneath. Her chest was crushed and she received other internal injuries, which caused virtually instantaneous death. Rolla was crushed and injured internally. Last reports from the hospital at Norwalk stated that Rolla is very low and that little hope is entertained for his recovery.

MANY FRIENDS AT FUNERAL

Hold Impressive Services At Pro-Cathedral for Frank Heintzman

A large crowd of friends and neighbors attended the funeral services held at St. Mary's Pro-Cathedral this morning for Frank Heintzman, proprietor of the G. & W. Battery company, who passed away Tuesday morning as a result of heart trouble and complications.

The many beautiful wreaths and bouquets of flowers piled high on the funeral bier and surrounding the altar were tokens of the esteem felt by friends for the passing of such an estimable citizen. In delivering his address Father Slag spoke of the wonderful fight and patient struggle of the young man during the long months of suffering and illness; he spoke touchingly of his devotion to his friend's exemplary life. At the close of the impressive service at the church the deceased was laid to rest in St. Mary's cemetery. Acting as pallbearers were: Al Simons, Tom Galvin, Louis Fibeser, W. H. Murphy, J. P. Wagner and E. A. Brown.

The birth of a baby girl born at the Bismarck hospital has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. A. Ash of Tuttle.

St. Alexius Hospital

Joseph Stadler, Dogden, Mrs. Sebastian Heinrich, Solen have entered the hospital. Fred Hendrickson, Zap, Julius Haas, Turtle Lake, John Seidl, Solen, and Mrs. A. Bretting, Dodge, have been discharged from the hospital.

Bismarck Hospital

Miss Nina Klito, Hillsboro, Mrs. Anthony Anderson, Danzig, Phil. Hip Burlack, Burnstad, Master Arthur Rudolph, Napoleon, Miss Mabel Brown, city, Miss Alma Klusman, city, Miss Elsie Krauth, Hebron, Henry Kuehler, Jackson, Wm. Simpson, Mandan, and Mrs. A. Ash, Tuttle, have entered the Bismarck hospital for treatment. Mrs. Toney Neugebauer, city, Miss Edith Aberle, Garrison, Mrs. Irvin Small, city, Mrs. James Grover, Tuttle, and Andrea Retch, Wishek, have been discharged from the hospital.

The scene showing the guests eating the cake is included in the film, "The Angel of Crooked Street" is a story of unusual interest because of its action and intensely dramatic scenes. It deals with the adventures of a young girl who is falsely accused of theft and sent to the workhouse. When she comes out she seeks revenge, but finds that vengeance is not hers to take.

THE ELTINGE

"A Man of Action," Thomas H. Ince's mysterious comedy-drama keeps everyone guessing from start to finish. Even swifter and funnier than in his celebrated comedy, "Twenty-Three and One-Half Hours' Leave" is Douglas MacLean, the spoiled child of fortune who turns crook for a day.

This mirthful-mystery story of the astonishing adventures of a young San Francisco millionaire who is forced to "swindle" his own jewels is to be shown at the Eltinge Friday and Saturday. Raymond Hutton, who furnished lots of fun as the butler in the "Hottentot" also appears in "A Man of Action."

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

YOUR OLD AGE
Julian Eltinge, world's greatest female impersonator, weighed 214 pounds when 92-inch waists became the fashion.

"I got my waist down to 22 inches, all right," he reminisces. "The Lord knows how I did it. You could stick pins in my legs and I didn't feel it. The circulation was completely cut off. It's a cinch now. The wide, loose waist-line would let me get away with murder. But I don't weigh as much as I did then. Only 165 now."

When a man tipping the beam at 214 pounds can get his waist down to 22 inches, anything is possible.

A bigger problem than reducing his waist-line is ahead of Eltinge—real name, William Julian Dalton, by the way. The problem ahead is old age. Eltinge has been impersonating merry widows for quite a while. Double chins and stiff joints cannot be dodged forever. He knows it, is frank about it.

His has been a prosperous career. He could quit, never do another tap of work, and live off the fat of the land.

But he wants to keep on working. Female impersonation will be out of the question. He's a he-man, by the way, with an uppercut that would qualify him as a pugilist's sparring partner.

Here's his decision: "I want to keep going. I like to travel. I figure I can keep up concert work till I am 60 or 70 years old. Some of my opera friends tell me I have a voice. So I'm going to take a chance."

Eltinge is educating his voice now. A few more years of female impersonation, then off go his stage skirts forever. And when they are put away in mothballs, Eltinge will have his voice ready for his new line of work.

Instead of waiting for Father Time and the public to tie a cord to him, he is going to take his own hand. In preparing for the inevitable, he displays forethought that is very scarce among actors—or the rest of us, for that matter.

There are many sorts of occupation for which a man is unfitted sooner or later by his age. A woman, likewise. How many are preparing themselves to take up a new line of endeavor when the referee counts them out? How many are even saving systematically so they will be independent financially when young newcomers crowd them out of their chronic jobs?

How about yourself? At what age will you be "through" in the work you are following? And what are you preparing to take its place? We get old—oh, so fast. The years slip by before we realize.

LAZY?
"I'm the laziest man in the world, for I have never done a stroke of work at any time during my long lifetime—76 years."

This exceptional claim is made by "The Hermit of Ridgefield, Conn." He comes from a long line of blue-blooded New Englanders.

The hermit has never been more than 20 miles from his home, built by his grandfather in 1708. Never has seen a street car or movie. He devotes his time to reading Latin and Greek and the newspapers—which, he considers, take the place of travel. Goes barefooted.

Maybe this hermit isn't accomplishing much in a material way, but he is improving himself. That's his purpose on earth, and the only success that matters. As proof of his wisdom, he says he has quit drinking "because good liquor hasn't been made in a decade."

FUN
Wall Street makes Broadway, says Professor Fitch, who teaches Biblical literature and religion at Amherst College. He's speaking broadly, means that we rush from hectic money-making to excited spending.

"Men in the midst of our machine-like civilization must go from one extreme to the other or go mad."

Hence, nervousness, especially restlessness and irritation.

DEATH
The Springfield army rifle will be replaced by the Garand semi-automatic, experts predict, following tests. The Garand turns every doughboy into a machine-gunner. It is a shoulder rifle and fires 60 shots a minute. Weighs about the same as the Springfield. The Garand would change battle tactics radically, for it would triple our army's volume of fire. You turn to another page and read news about world courts and other attempts toward world peace. Opposed to which are things like the Garand rifle. While the forces of peace combat for control, the forces of war are active in the opposite direction.

ILLNESS
How many days' work, how much money, do you lose yearly as a result of sickness? The National Health Council says sickness costs our country 900 million dollars a year in lost wages and that the total loss from preventable diseases and deaths is 3000 million dollars a year. This is a conservative estimate, too low, for it figures the average earning power at only $3 a day and does not take into account the money paid for doctors, nurses, etc.

The medical profession, instead of trying to make us live 150 years, might intensify more at making us healthy while we live our short span. Elimination of "colds" would be more valuable than any possible result of monkey glands.

POLITICS
Politics, usually dull, seem due for a resurrection of its old-time interest. Henry Ford, building the largest radio broadcasting station in the world, may campaign for the presidency by wireless. From Germany comes a report that the former crown prince will run for presidency of the German republic at the next election. In his favor Ford has American curiosity—the intense desire to try anything just to see what results.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

In Rainbow Land there's a place where the Upsy Downys live. Because they do everything in exactly the opposite way that it seems should be done.

And that was the next place Nancy and Nick came to.

"What a funny place!" exclaimed Nancy. "The back door's on the street and the tea-towels are hanging where everyone can see them. And the ash-cans and the milk bottles and everything."

"Forward! Forward!" said the Upsy Downys, overhanging Nancy's remark.

"You'll have to turn his words backward," whispered Mister Sky Bow, "for they put their last word first like the Chinamen."

"Oh, you believe in putting your words first forward," repeated Nancy. "Is that it?"

"It that's," Yes," nodded the Upsy Downys. "Us about all you tell 'll."

"That's fine!" cried the Twins. But Nick had an idea. "Wait!" he cried. "I'll have to write it down, for if you talk backward we can't remember it."

"So much. There now, go ahead, please." So the Upsy Downys began, but if you wish to read it, my dears, you will have to begin at the last word and read to the top. This is what the funny little fellow said:

"All that's, us like to anyone want don't we and odd be to like We, folk well to medicine give only and onions and beefsteak babies our feed We. Tuesday on wash and Monday on iron We. be should cellars our where attics our and attics our in cellars our have We. last soup and first dessert have always We. night at breakfast and morning the in tea have we meals our eat we When. last O's B A our and first lessons hard other and Greek our learn we school in. around everything turn we so, world of rest the from different be to like We."

"Then we shall leave at once!" said Nancy. "I'm sure we won't stay where we aren't wanted."

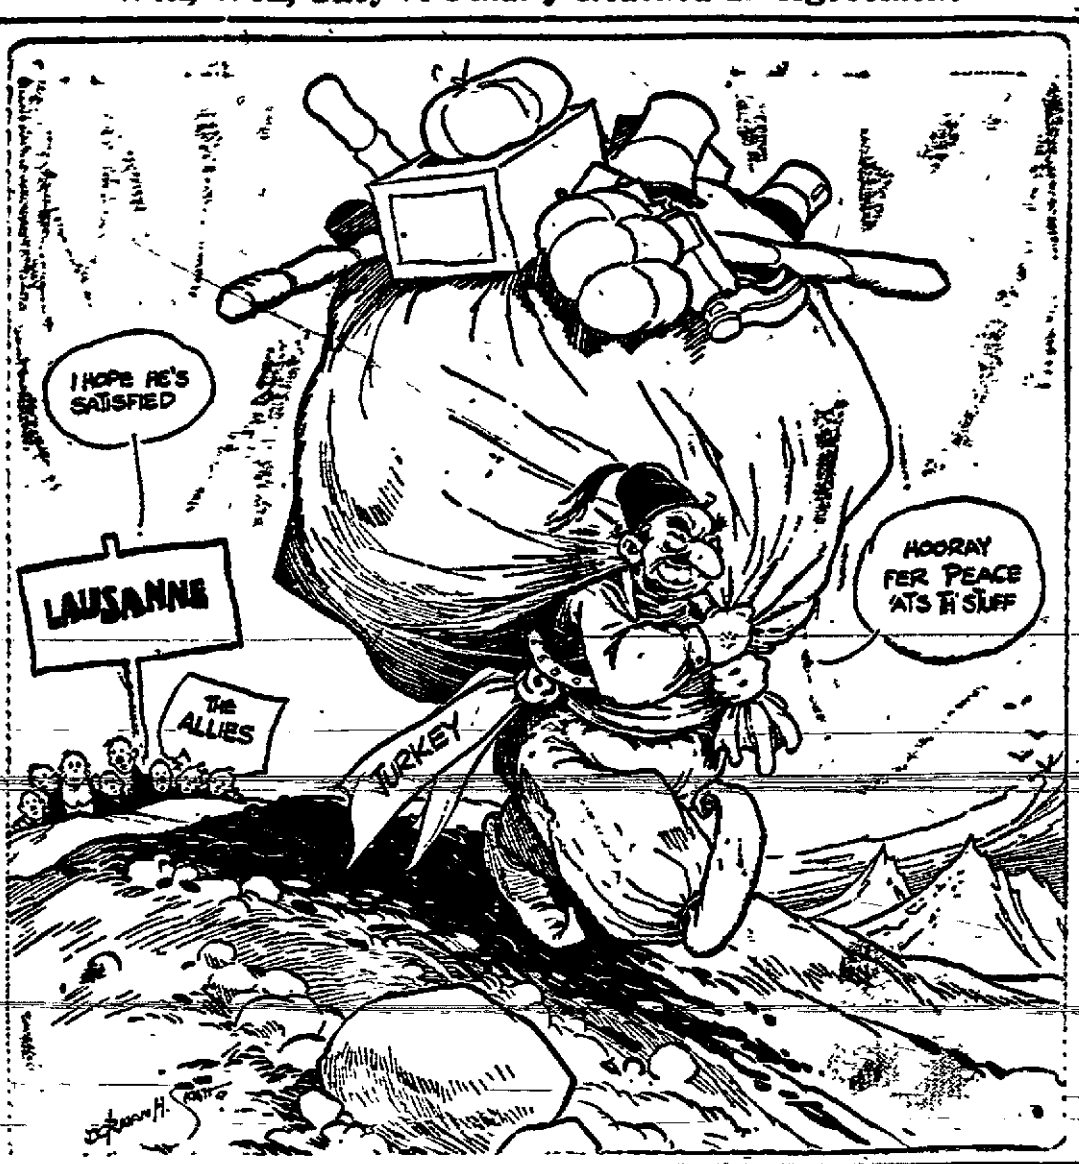

And they all marched off.

Well, Well, They've Finally Reached an Agreement

The Tangle

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO LESLIE PRESCOTT.

Dear little Marquise, you will understand the first part of this because you are flirtatious and your lover liked it, but probably you knew nothing about the last for I presume you never married.

Just as we were talking I saw a man enter the tea place and look over to her with a wide smile.

She, however, never batted an eye at him as she gave him a cold little bow.

"Who is that?" I asked as casually as possible.

"Oh," she answered, with just a little catch in her breath, "it's just a man who always wants to love instead of being loved."

I looked at him again. He returned my glance with almost the same caressing look that he had bestowed upon Ruth. Again I turned my face toward Ruth. She was smiling.

"There are some men, Leslie, who fall in love with the species rather than the individual. Walter Burke is one of those men. Shall I bring him over and introduce him to you?"

He will give you what the young people nowadays call a thrill with his compliments. Even I had almost become interested in him, but today I think I am cured.

Once more Ruth Ellington entered into her shell and although Walter Burke sauntered over to our table, she still remained in icy isolation.

Mr. Burke rallied her gently upon her quietness and seemed to find it an excuse to shower attentions upon me. I could not tell if he were pressed or not. "My dear Mrs. Prescott," he said, "I can now understand why Jack has not invited me to call upon you. You are too fascinating to be left at large."

"That's not the reason," broke in Ruth Ellington quickly. "It is because he knows, Walter, that you are a notorious flirt, particularly when you are alone."

"You never can get over the fishing for the exquisite pleasure of seeing interest for you rise in a woman's eyes. You are a great sinner. Wait in that direction."

"Oh, don't you think, Ruthie," he asked, "that a man can sin a little?"

"It is according to what he thinks are little sins. I do not think that any man who, for the deliberate fostering of his vanity, makes more or less love to every married woman he meets, is a small sinner."

"Most men, you know, cannot distinguish between a great passion and a small desire."

"Good Lord, Ruth! What has come over you?" Walter Burke asked in surprise. "I've always said that you were the kind of a girl who would never take anything seriously. Have you no sympathy at all for a man who has red blood in his veins, a love of beauty in his eyes and a spirit of fun in his heart?"

"Must we all be Sir Galahads to reach your ideals? Certainly you haven't married one. Look!"

We turned toward the door to find Mr. Ellington coming in with a very pretty and vivacious woman.

APPROVE PLAN FOR PAVING

The Mandan city commission last night unanimously approved plans and specifications for a paving program which calls for improvement of 32 blocks of streets this summer, including about a mile of the Mandan-Bismarck highway.

Plans and specifications have been ordered prepared for a two-story brick dormitory for the state training school at Mandan, to house from 40 to 50 boys, by the state board of administration. Van Horn and Rittter, Bismarck architects, will prepare the plans.

Horace Lanterman, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lanterman, received notice Monday of his election to "Phi Beta Kappa," the greatest honorary fraternity in the United States. With the notification came the little gold Greek key insignia which is a token of the scholastic brilliance of the student being elected to the organization. Horace Lanterman received his diploma at Leland Stanford university, Palo Alto, Calif., in June. He is one of the three Mandan men to possess the key, the others being Dr. B. S. Nickerson and Charles Heister.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Mark Brendon, criminal investigator, is engaged by Jenny Pendean to solve the mystery of the strange disappearance of her husband, Michael. Pendean is last seen in the company of Jenny's uncle, Robert Redmayne. Robert roams at large and sends for his brother Bendigo to come to a secret hiding place in a cave. Bendigo and Robert disappear and the cave shows evidence of a terrible struggle.

Jenny, married Giuseppe Doria, who works for Bendigo, and they go to live in Italy, where Jenny's uncle, Albert Redmayne, lives. Peter Ganna, famous American detective, is a close friend of Albert and he assists Brendon in the investigation.

Doria is arrested for murder and when he tries to escape is shot at by an Italian policeman.

Jenny is killed when she throws herself in front of her husband and receives the bullet meant for him.

Doria writes a long confession of his guilt.

He tells how he and Jenny, because of their hatred of the girl's three uncles, plan to kill each in turn, partly for revenge and partly to satisfy their peculiar criminal instincts.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XIX
A Legacy for Peter Ganna.

If at any time I entertained one shadow of regret in the execution of those who had traduced me and so earned their destruction, it was after we had dwelt for a season with Albert Redmayne beside Como. But Jenny swiftly laughed me out of these emotions.

"Keep your tenderness and sentiment for me," she said. "I will not share them."

We might have killed Albert a thousand times and left no sign—a fact that brings me to that part of my recital I most deplore.

Nevertheless, though things difficult and dangerous we had triumphantly achieved, before this task for a child we failed; and the reason for our collapse was not in Jenny but in me. Had I listened to my austere partner I should have waited until she had searched for and found the uncle's will. This she did; and as the instrument provided entirely satisfactory, my duty was to execute it.

Only on this point I intervened; nothing but my vanity, my consciousness of power to excel, upset the rightful climax. We were, indeed, both artists, but how incomparably the greater she! Had she won her way with me, we should be living now to enjoy the fruits of our accomplishment.

But though she did not win her way, yet, in defeat, her final, glorious deed was to interpret the death intended for me, that I might still live. Loyal to the last, she sacrificed herself, forgetting, in that supreme moment, how life for me without her could possess no shadow of compensation.

My wife's deeper sanity and clearer vision always inclined her to distrust our American acquaintance, Peter Ganna.

Ganna is a great man on his own plane. But, though he is a greedy creature who digs his grave with his knife and fork, though his habit of drenching himself with powdered tobacco, instead of smoking like a gentleman, is disgusting, yet I have nothing but admiration for him. His little plot—to treat me to a dose of my own physics and present a forgery of "Robert Redmayne" in the evening dust—was altogether admirable. The thing came in a manner so sudden and unexpected that I failed of a perfect riposte.

It was Jenny, of course, who had assisted me to dig Marco's grave on Grante and who shared my disappointment when we found that Brendon had conspired to overthrow me.

While Jenny related her offerings and made appeal to her listener's overmastering devotion, I left the house and Brendon saw me go. To get a boat, that I might cross to Bellagio, was the work of ten minutes. A black beard was all the disguise I used, save that I had left my coat in the boat and appeared before Redmayne in shirt sleeves.

With trembling accents I related to Assunta, who of course knew me not, that Poggi was taken fatally ill and might hardly hope to last an hour. It was enough. I returned to the boat and in three minutes Albert joined me and offered me untold gold to row as I had never rowed before. A hundred and fifty yards from shore I directed him to pass into the bow of the boat, explaining that I should so make greater speed. As he passed me, the little poisoner fell. He suffered nothing and in five minutes more, with heavy stones fastened to feet and arms, he sank beneath Como. The poleaxe followed, its work completed.

Then I rowed ashore swiftly, returned the boat to the beach unobserved, hid my disguise in my pocket and strolled to a familiar inn. I stopped at this albergo for a considerable period, that a sufficient alibi might be established. Then the crash came. I returned home suspecting nothing—to fall like Lucifer, to find all lost, to hold my dead wife in my arms and know that without her, life was ended for me.

In solemn, splendid fashion she passed and it shall not be recorded that the man this glorious woman loved made an end of his day with less distinction and propriety to die on the gallows is to do what many others have done; I will condescend to no such ignominy. Ganna understood me well enough for that.

Let not my legacy to Peter Ganna be forgotten, or that I appoint Mark Brendon—executor and residuary legatee.

I think there is nothing more to say.

"Al fin del gioco, si vede chi ha guadagnato." "At the end of the game we may see the winner." But not always, for sometimes the game is drawn and honors are easy. I have played a drawn game with Peter Ganna and he will not pretend a victory, or withhold the first applause where it belongs. He knows that, even if we were equal, the woman was greater than either of us.

Farewell, Giuseppe Doria.

Ten days after Peter Ganna had read this narrative and its sequel at his snug home outside Boston, there reached him, from the coast of England, a little parcel from England. Something amazing challenged his astonished eyes. There came a long letter from Mark Brendon also, which repeated information already familiar to Peter through the newspaper; but added other facts for him alone.

New Scotland Yard, October 20, 1931.

My Dear Peter-Ganna: You will have heard of Pendaan's confession and message to you; but you may not have read full details as they concern you personally. I enclose his gift; and it is safe to bet that neither you nor any man will henceforth possess anything more remarkable. He made a will in prison and the law decides that I inherit his personal estate; but you will not be surprised to learn that I have handed it over to the police orphanages of my country and yours in equal proportions.

The facts are these. As the day approached for his execution, extraordinary precautions were taken, but Pendaan behaved with utmost restraint, gave no vent to his rage, no threat. Having completed his written statement, he asked to be permitted to copy it on a typewriter, but leave to do so was not granted. He kept the communication on his person and he was promised, that no attempt to read it should be made until after his execution. He did; he received this undertaking before he put me to sleep. He gave me a quick look at the typewriter, state well, took exercise with his guards and smoked many cigarettes. I may mention that the body of Robert Redmayne was found where he buried it; but the tides have deflected the beach gravels of Bendigo's grave and search there has revealed nothing.

Upon his last night but one, Pendaan—as we saw—was apparently slept for some hours with the bedclothes up to his face. A warder sat on each side of him and a light was burning. Suddenly he gave a sigh, and held out his hand to the man on his right.

"See that that goes to Peter Ganna, it is my legacy," he said. "And remember that Mark Brendon is my heir." He then put a small object into the warder's hand. At the same time he apparently suffered a tremendous physical convulsion, uttered one groan and leaped up into a sitting position. From this he fell forward unconscious. One attendant supported him and the other ran for the prison surgeon. But Pendaan was already dead—poisoned with cyanide of potassium.

You will remember two facts which might have thrown light upon his secret. The first was his accident in Italy as a youth; the second your constant interest in a peculiar, inhuman quality of his expression which you were never able to understand. Both are now explained. He had, of course, a secret receptacle upon his person beyond human knowledge or power of discovery, for he says that only his mother knew of his accident. That accident was the loss of an eye. Behind an eye of glass that took its place had lain concealed, until he required it, the capsule of poison found crushed within his month after death.

What the published statement of this knave has done for me you will guess. I am leaving the detective narrative and have found other occupation. One can only seek to live down my awful experience. Next year my work will bring me to America and, when that happens, I shall be very glad to see you, so that we may speak of the past, with all its futility and bitterness for me, but that we may look forward, and that I may see all in well with you in your days of retirement, honor and ease. Until then I subscribe myself, your admirer and faithful friend,

Mark Brendon.

Peter opened his parcel. It contained an eye made of glass and very exquisitely fashioned to imitate reality. Its prevailing darkness and prevented the truth from appearing and yet, perfect though it was in luster and pigment, the false thing had given to Pendaan's expression a quality that never failed to disturb Peter.

Mr. Ganna turned over the little object that had so often met his inquiring gaze.

"A rare crook," he said aloud; "but he is right; his wife was greater than either of us. If he'd listened to her and not his own vain-glory, both could be alive and flourishing yet."

RUTH SLAMS 22ND HOMER THIS SEASON

Two Other Yankees Made Home Runs in Yesterday's Win Over Cleveland

Chicago, July 19.—Number 22 was struck on the Ruth's mirror last night to greet him when he awoke today. He copied his latest homer in yesterday's game with Detroit when Babe Ruth hit the Tigers to one run and the Yankees won the first game of the series in the middle western city, 4 to 1.

Of the four runs made by the New York team three were non-stop affairs, one Babe's and the others from the sticks of Dugan and Ward. Boston and Chicago broke even in their double header in the Illinois city Boston winning the first game, 6 to 3, and Chicago the second, 11 to 3.

The Cardinals won a fast game from the Giants, 6 to 1, playing in the Polo Grounds and the Cincinnati Reds defeated Brooklyn, climbing a little nearer the top of the National League ladder. The Giants and Reds have each lost 30 games but the Giants have four more won than Cincinnati. The Reds trimmed the Brooklyn team, 8 to 4, in a quiet and gentlemanly game.

In Cleveland the Senators got one run and then took a little rest while the home team ran the bases four times. Although outnitted nearly two to one St. Louis shut out the Philadelphia Phillies and took the game, 2 to 0. In a close fought game in Philadelphia, the home team beat the Chicago Nationals, 7 to 6. Pittsburgh took a fall out of Boston on the latter's ground, winning 5 to 3.

LOCAL STAKE SECOND GAME

Defeat Valley City, 6 to 1, In Contest

Valley City, July 19.—Heavy hitting featured the play in the second game of the Valley City-Bismarck series in the North Dakota state league yesterday. The locals lined out 10 hits and the visitors nine. Bismarck won, 6 to 1.

Shanley, second baseman for Bismarck, got three hits in as many times. Ranged support was given Pitcher Jerry Dunn of the Valley City team. "Buck" Taylor, Bismarck pitcher, after a bad start braced up and had the game well in hand after the fourth inning after which he was never in danger.

Bismarck got 6 runs, nine hits and had two errors, while Valley City had one run, ten hits and seven errors. The box score:

NEW INFIELDER
Valley City, N. D., July 19.—Zimmerman a new infielder obtained by Manager Tom Shanley of the Bismarck club made his appearance in the opening game of the Valley City-Bismarck series here. He played third base. He joined the team from the Iron Range. Valley City was still out of the game with a spiked hand. The game ended 2 to 2 in 11 innings.

Valley City scored first. Seibold was safe on the error of Noll, playing first for Bismarck. He advanced to second and third on an out and a hit scored on pitcher Cantin's out. Valley scored also in the fourth. Benhoff singled and stole second. Cantin scored him with a single.

Bismarck scored two runs in the seventh. Noll was safe on a fielder's choice. Indian Joe Day hit the first ball pitched over the left-field fence for a homer, scoring Noll ahead of him.

There was a good crowd out for the opening game.

Schanley, former Jamestown first baseman, appeared in first for Valley City, having taken Earl Pickering's place as manager.

Bernier and Zimmerman got one hit each for Bismarck and Day got two hits. Noll and Day were credited with errors.

Maybe They'll Settle It For Good This Time

LEW TENDLER

BENNY LEONARD

Is Benny Leonard, king of light-weights, to be treated to a surprise party when he steps into the ring with Lew Tendler at New York on July 23?

Wise ones are shaking their heads dubiously. They think Benny has slowed up considerably. His scrap with Pinkey Mitchell a few weeks ago proves it, they say.

Others, claiming to be equally endowed with wisdom teeth, contend Leonard is at least as good as when he met Tendler the last time. And Lew didn't take the title so anyone could notice it!

Eastern fight fans are all "hot" up over the coming drama and expect a fast fight. Leonard often has expressed himself as being particularly anxious to eliminate Tendler once and for all. He regards Lew as his most dangerous challenger, and knows he cannot rest secure with his laurels as long as the Philadelphia is not decisively beaten.

move the flagstick? Is there any penalty if, after having the flagstick removed, the player's ball comes into contact with it?

A player has a perfect right to have the flagstick removed at any time. Usually he makes such a request when he believes he has a chance to hole out. It is permissible for either himself or his partner or one of the caddies to remove the flagstick. It is always wise to have the stick carried to a safe distance from the hole. If the ball of the player comes into contact with the stick after it has been removed he loses the hole.

In a very closely contested match, one of the players feels that his opponent has driven his ball out of bounds from the tee. He is desirous of getting such information before playing his next shot, feeling that if his opponent's ball is out of bounds he will have a slight edge that may determine his style of play. Has the player such right?

The player has the right at any time of ascertaining whether his opponent's ball is out of bounds or not before his opponent can compel him to continue his play.

Is there a difference in the penalty when a player in putting strikes his opponent's ball in match or medal play?

There is considerable difference. In match play there is no penalty, and a player's opponent may replace his ball or not as he chooses. In medal play there is a one-stroke penalty, consequently it is always safer to ask your opponent who is closer to the hole to either lift his ball or play it. In medal play it is necessary that your opponent replace his ball in as near as possible to its original position.

Jamestown, N. D., July 19.—Still in a slump the Jimkatons took the small end of the second game of the series with Minot by a picnic score of 15 to 4 last evening.

With "Wally" Walters pitching the Minot team had Wingfield's men on the run from the start though the latter did get two runs in the first without a single hit.

MARKET NEWS DOWNTURN ON WHEAT MART

Liverpool Fails to Respond to Yesterday's Advance

Chicago, July 19.—Wheat showed a downward slant in price today during the early dealings. Enlarged receipts here together with a poor response in Liverpool to yesterday's price advance on the Atlantic had a bearish effect. There were no indications of general public buying and some uncertainty was caused by announcement that the government supervisors had asked for the names of actual traders who were long or short 500,000 bushels or more. Heretofore reports which the government had asked for required no names.

The opening which ranged from 1/4 to 3/4 cents lower with September 97 1/2 to 98 1/2 and December $1.00 1/2 to $1.01 were followed by a slight setback.

Reports indicating danger of serious damage from black stem rust in the Canadian Northwest led to an advance in wheat prices after an early decline. It was pointed out that there had been heavy recent rains and that the Canadian crop was a long ways from harvest. The close was strong 1/4 to 2 cents net higher with September $1.00 1/4 to $1.00 3/4 and December $1.03 1/2 to $1.03 3/4.

RUTH SLAMS 22ND HOMER THIS SEASON

Two Other Yankees Made Home Runs in Yesterday's Win Over Cleveland

Chicago, July 19.—Number 22 was struck on the nose by a mirror last night to greet him when he awoke today. He copped his latest homer in yesterday's game with Detroit when Babe Ruth held the Tigers to one run and the Yankees won the first game of the series in the middle western city, 4 to 1.

The four runs made by the New York team were non-stop affairs, one Babe's and the others from the sticks of Dugan and Ward. Boston and Chicago broke even in their double header in the Illinois city Boston winning the first game, 6 to 3, and Chicago the second, 11 to 3.

The Cardinals won a fast game from the Giants, 6 to 1, playing in the Polo Grounds and the Cincinnati Reds defeat of Brooklyn, climbing a little nearer the top of the National League ladder. The Giants and Reds have each lost 30 games but the Cardinals have four more wins than Cincinnati. The Reds trimmed the Brooklyn team, 8 to 4, in a quiet and gentlemanly game.

In Cleveland the Senators got one run and then took a little rest while the home team ran the bases four times. Although out nearly two to one St. Louis shut out the Philadelphia and took the game, 2 to 0. In a close fought game in Philadelphia, the home team beat the Chicago Nationals, 7 to 6. Pittsburgh took a fall out of Boston on the latter's ground, winning 5 to 3.

LOCALSTAKE SECOND GAME

Defeat Valley City, 6 to 1, In Contest

Valley City, July 19.—Heavy hitting featured the play in the second game of the Valley City-Bismarck series in the North Dakota state league yesterday. The locals lined out 10 hits and the visitors nine. Bismarck won, 6 to 1.

Shanley, second baseman for Bismarck, put three hits in as many times to bat. Ragged support was given Pitcher Jerry Dunn of the Valley City team. "Buck" Taylor, Bismarck pitcher, after a bad start, lined up and had the game well in hand after the fourth inning after which he was never in danger.

Bismarck got 6 runs, nine hits and had two errors, while Valley City had one run, ten hits and seven errors. The box score:

NEW INFILDER
Valley City, N. D. July 19.—Zimmerman a new infielder obtained by Manager Tom Shanley of the Bismarck club made his appearance in the opening game of the Valley City-Bismarck series here. He played third base. He joined the team from the Iron Range league. Nord was still out of the game with a spiked hand. The game ended 2 to 2 in 10 innings.

Valley City scored first. Solbold was first on the error of Noll, played in first for Bismarck. He advanced to second and third on an out and a hit scored on pitcher Condon's out. Valley scored also in the fourth. Benhoff singled and stole second. Condon scored him with a single. Bismarck scored two runs in the seventh. Noll was safe on a fielder's choice. Indian Joe Day hit the first ball pitched over the left-field fence for a homer, scoring Noll ahead of him.

There was a good crowd out for the opening game. Schanley, former Jamestown first baseman, appeared on first for Valley City, having taken Earl Pickering's place as manager. Bernier and Zimmerman got one hit each for Bismarck and Day got two hits. Noll and Day were credited with errors.

Maybe They'll Settle It For Good This Time

LEW TENDLER

BENNY LEONARD

Is Benny Leonard, king of light-weights, to be treated to a surprise party when he steps into the ring with Lew Tendler at New York on July 23?

Wise ones are shaking their heads dubiously. They think Benny has slowed up considerably. His scrap with Pitkey Mitchell a few weeks ago proves it, they say.

Others, claiming to be equally endowed with wisdom teeth, contend that Leonard is as good as ever as he was the last time.

And Lew didn't take the title so anyone could notice it!

Eastern fight fans are all "hot" up over the coming drama and expect a fast fight. Leonard often has expressed himself as being particularly anxious to eliminate Tendler once and for all. He regards Lew as his most dangerous challenger, and knows he cannot rest secure with his laurels as long as the Philadelphian is not decisively beaten.

move the flagstick? Is there any penalty if, after having the flagstick removed, the player's ball comes into contact with it?

A player has a perfect right to have the flagstick removed at any time. Usually he makes such a request when he believes he has a chance to hole out. It is permissible for either himself or his partner or one of the caddies to remove the flagstick. It is always wise to have the stick carried to a safe distance from the hole. If the ball of the player comes into contact with the stick after it has been removed he loses the hole.

In a very closely contested match, one of the players feels that his opponent has driven his ball out of bounds from the tee. He is desirous of getting such information before playing his next shot, feeling that if his opponent's ball is out of bounds he will have a slight edge that may determine his style of play. Has the player such right?

The player has the right at any time of ascertaining whether his opponent's ball is out of bounds or not before his opponent can compel him to continue his play.

Is there a difference in the penalty when a player in putting strikes his opponent's ball in match or medal play?

There is considerable difference. In match play there is no penalty, and a player's opponent may replace his ball or not as he chooses. In medal play there is a one-stroke penalty, consequently it is always safer to ask your opponent who is closer to the hole to either lift his ball or play it. In medal play it is necessary that your opponent replace his ball in as near as possible to its original position.

MINOTERS ARE STILL GOING

Beat Jamestown by Large Score of 15 to 4

Jamestown, N. D., July 19.—Still in a slump the Minoters took the small end of the second game of the series with Minot by a picnic score of 15 to 4 last evening.

With "Wally" Walters pitching the Minot team had Wierfield's men on the run from the start though the latter did get two runs in the first without a single hit.

Jamestown: 200 101 000-4 5 4

last night when he stopped Ritchie Mitchell of Milwaukee in the fourth round of a 15-round match at the New York Velodrome. But it is doubtful whether the victory enhanced the Chicagoan's title aspirations in the 135-pound division.

DOWNTURN ON WHEAT MART

Liverpool Fails to Respond to Yesterday's Advance

Chicago, July 19.—Wheat showed a downward slant in price today during the early dealings. Enlarged receipts here together with a poor response in Liverpool to yesterday's price upturn on this side of the Atlantic had a bearish effect. There were no indications of general public buying and some uncertainty was caused by announcement that the government supervisors had asked for the names of actual traders who were long or short 500,000 bushels or more. Heretofore reports which the government had asked for required no names.

The opening which ranged from 4 to 2 cents lower with September 97 1/2 to 98c and December 1.00 1/4 to 1.01 were followed by a slight setback.

Reports indicating danger of serious damage from black stem rust in the Canadian Northwest led to an advance in wheat prices after an early decline. It was pointed out that there had been heavy recent rains and that the Canadian crop was a long ways from harvest. The close was strong 1 1/2 to 2 cents net higher with September 1.00 1/4 to 1.00 3/4 and December 1.03 1/4 to 1.03 3/4.

MOSQUITO POPULATION HAS DOUBLED

Maybe Tripled or More—Any-way, They're Mighty Thick and Hungry These Days

The mosquito population of Bismarck has doubled during the past year. Some authorities even estimate that it has been increased three times over that of last year.

While no official census report has been given to the public those in authority to speak upon the subject assert that never before in the history of Bismarck has there been such a phenomenal growth in the mosquito family.

The most frequent explanation of the fact is that the large amount of rain has brought about this increase in the mosquito birthrate. This conclusion, however, is officially contradicted by the records at the Weather Bureau which show that the rain during the present season has not been unusual.

It is said, however, that the rainfall during the season most conducive to mosquito production has been unusually large and that the many pools and streams of water standing about are the most essential factors in the rapid growth of mosquitoes life.

The ravenous appetite of the creatures has been commented upon by a large portion of the residents of Bismarck. Experts say that the overpopulation of the city has almost resulted in a shortage of food, consequently allowing the invading hordes to arrive at such a stage of hunger that the citizens are compelled to fight their way through the ravagers along the streets.

The careful screening in of porches and the observance of everykind of precaution by the inhabitants of Bismarck is also supposed to bring about the hunger of the long-billed, blood sucking insects.

No deaths, however, due to soum-mages with the invaders have been reported to local health authorities.

SUMMON FIRMS ON PROPERTY VALUATIONS

County Board to Inquire if Property Has Escaped Taxation in County

Notices have been dispatched by the County Auditor to a large number of business firms and banks in Burleigh county to appear before the board of county commissioners on July 25 to show cause why $15,354.638.00 of property, alleged to have escaped taxation, should not be placed on the assessment books. The action was taken upon reports of F. O. Hellstrom, employed especially by the board of county commissioners to discover if any property had escaped taxation.

A period of from three to six years is covered in the report. Nineteen banks are included.

The order summons the officers of the corporations named to appear before the county board and to have with them such books and records as they may have showing the real and personal property belonging to them and also a full statement of capital employed by the company. To others than banks showing the value of real property also is asked.

POLITICS OR GOOD SERVICE?

The railroads of the United States did the biggest business of their entire history in the year ending June 1st, 1923.

In order to handle this enormous business the railroads in the Northwest—to say nothing of the rest of the country—are spending in round numbers $20,000,000 for 400 new locomotives at $50,000 apiece, and $60,000,000 for 30,000 new freight cars at $2,000 apiece.

They are eager to spend many more millions for new double tracks, passing tracks, sidetracks and terminal tracks which are very badly needed in order to keep the cars moving and not standing idle on the tracks waiting for a chance to move.

The only possible way the railroad companies can raise the money to build these track improvements is by a satisfactory showing of earnings.

The railroad companies cannot borrow the money to improve their tracks if it is doubtful whether they will be allowed to earn enough to pay the interest on the debt or the debt itself when due.

Some politicians are seeking popularity by trying to prevent the railroad companies from earning enough to pay back anything to stockholders and bondholders who have put their money into the railroads. There are tens of thousands of these, rich and poor, scattered all over the United States.

There are some politicians who actually want to cripple the railroads so that they will be taken over by the government and become political machines.

What the farmer needs from the railroad is not more politics but good prompt service.

The farmers ought to plainly show that they will not allow any man to hold public office who supports measures which would prevent the railroads from giving good service and turn them into political machines.
